Synopsis:

Religious leaders contacted could not comment regarding the candidate. Editor of the New York Times would not comment regarding the candidate. United States Attorney's Offices record checks negative. [redacted] National Urban League, disagrees with REHNQUIST's views and opinions regarding minorities as well as affirmative action. He declined to go into specifics as he may attempt to appear before Senate Judiciary Committee. [redacted] American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU), stated REHNQUIST's refusal to recuse himself from "Pentagon Papers" case despite involvement with case during employment with Justice Department gave the appearance of a lack of fairness on REHNQUIST's part. [redacted] also believes REHNQUIST is not sensitive to the rights of the individual or to the limitations placed on the rights of the government by the Bill of Rights. [redacted] would not offer recommendation one way or the other as it is not the policy of the ACLU to take stands regarding political appointments.

NATIONAL URBAN LEAGUE

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted] on June 27, 1986:

[redacted] NATIONAL URBAN LEAGUE (NUL), 500 East 62nd Street, New York, New York, stated that he did not personally know the candidate and could base his comments only on hearsay and the candidate's reputation. [redacted] stated that the candidate seems to be well qualified for the appointment, relating to his legal ability and his general intelligence. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that he disagrees with the candidate as to his views and opinions in respect to the advance of minority groups, as well as affirmative action. [redacted] stated that he did not feel he wanted to go into specifics concerning their differences and was trying to resolve within himself whether or not he would attempt to appear before the Senate Confirmation Hearings.

[redacted] stated that he did not feel he wished to further discuss the candidate's appointment and closed by stating that the candidate would not be his personal selection for the appointment.

Special Interest Group

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] at New York, New York on June 26, 1986:

[redacted] AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION (ACLU), 132 West 43rd Street, New York, New York, advised that he does not personally know the candidate, however, based on his review of the candidate's decisions over the years, he feels that the candidate is highly intelligent and knowledgeable concerning the law and has excellent writing and speaking abilities. [redacted] further advised that the candidate is highly respected professionally, based on his contact with members of the legal profession. [redacted] indicated that he could not comment concerning the candidate's personal characteristics, however, could comment concerning the candidate's judicial qualifications, based on certain decisions rendered by the candidate while an Associate Justice on the Supreme Court.

[redacted] stated that in 1972, shortly after Justice REHNQUIST was appointed to the court, a case was sent to the Supreme Court on appeal from the First Circuit, involving Senator GRAVEL of Alaska and the "Pentagon Papers" [redacted] could not furnish the actual case citation). [redacted] advised that during the deliberation on this case, Justice REHNQUIST was requested to recuse himself from the case due to the fact that he had prior dealings with this matter while he was an Assistant Attorney General with the DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE prior to his appointment to the Supreme Court. [redacted] stated that Justice REHNQUIST did not disqualify himself and was actually the "swing" vote in the decision. [redacted] advised that this action on the part of Justice REHNQUIST gave the appearance of a lack of fairness on the candidate's part and was also an indication of a lack of good judgement. [redacted] also indicated that this decision might have been unethical, however, as [redacted] is not an attorney, he did not feel qualified to offer an opinion in this area. [redacted] also advised that no controversial decisions involving any questions as to fairness or bias have been made by Justice REHNQUIST since the incident previously described.

[redacted] also indicated that it is his belief that Justice REHNQUIST in general tends to resolve all matters put before him in favor of the government over the individual. [redacted] further stated that he feels the candidate is not sensitive to the rights of the individual or to the limitations placed on the rights of the government by the Bills of Rights. [redacted] advised that this reflects on the candidate's views on civil rights; not in the racial sense, however, in the broader sense involving the rights of the individual. [redacted] indicated that this is indicative of the candidate's "general authoritarian approach to the judicial process". [redacted] advised that an example of this attitude is that Justice REHNQUIST has always been in favor of allowing prayer in school, which would indicate the candidate's belief in the right of the individual, however, this past term the candidate ruled against an Orthodox Jewish soldier who was denied the right to wear a "skull cap" with his army uniform. [redacted] stated that on the surface this would seem inconsistent with Justice REHNQUIST's views on school prayer, however [redacted] stated that both examples demonstrate the candidate's tendency to favor government power over the rights of the individual.

When asked to furnish a statement regarding a recommendation for the candidate for the position for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, [redacted] indicated that it is against the policy of the ACLU to either support or oppose political candidates or candidates for political appointments. [redacted] stated that as his comments were that of the Executive Director of the ACLU and not personal opinions, he was not in a position to offer a recommendation for or against the candidate. [redacted] could offer no further information.

United States Attorney's Office

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted] at New York, New York on June 27, 1986:

[redacted] United States Attorney's (USA's) Office, Southern District of New York (SDNY), 1 Saint

Andrew's Plaza, New York, New York, advised that there was no record of any prosecutive action concerning the candidate or his wife in the records of the Criminal Division.

[redacted] USA's Office, SDNY, caused a similar search to be made and advised that there was no record concerning the candidate or his wife in the records of the Civil Division.

[redacted] USA's Office, Eastern District of New York (EDNY), 225 Cadman Plaza, Brooklyn, New York, advised that no record was located concerning the candidate or his wife in the records of the Criminal Division.

Being two acres of land, more or less, acquired by [redacted] by Warranty Deed of Highland Lodge, Inc. dated July 31, 1961 and recorded in Book V at Page 510. The premises are described therein as follows:

"Being a portion of the land and premises described in a Quit-Claim Deed from [redacted] to Highland Lodge, Inc., said deed being dated December 27, 1960, and recorded in Book V, page 494 of the Greensboro Land Records, and the portion that is herein conveyed being described as follows:

Beginning at a point located in the southeasterly edge of the old discontinued Town highway that once ran from the Greensboro-East Craftsbury highway North Easterly by the North Westerly side of the so-called Highland Lodge buildings and by the farm buildings, this point being four feet (4') west of a birch tree, that is about one foot in diameter at the butt of said birch tree, and said tree standing in a group of birch, maple and ash trees; thence, proceeding N 47°-15'W, along the Southwesterly line of land of M.T. Rhodebeck, a distance of Three Hundred Feet (300') to an iron pipe driven in the ground on said [redacted] property line which said iron pipe is further described as being located at the Northeasterly corner of the land herein conveyed; Thence, proceeding S 44°-24'W., at right angles with the first mentioned line, a distance of 290.50' to an iron post set in the ground at the southwesterly corner of the land herein conveyed; thence proceeding N 47°-15'W, at right angles with said last mentioned line, a distance of three hundred feet to an iron pipe driven in the ground; thence proceeding N 44°-24'E, in a straight line, to the point of beginning.

Meaning to hereby convey two acres of land contained within the above mentioned bounds, and all land described in the first above mentioned deed other than the within conveyed two acres, is reserved and excepted by Grantor.

Refer to the above mentioned deed and record, and to the deeds and records therein referred to, and to all former deeds and records, for a further and more particular description of the herein conveyed parcel of land.

As a further consideration for the giving of this deed, the grantees agrees that no residence or summer places shall be built on the land herein conveyed by the grantee, her heirs or assigns.

Also conveying a right of way at present location for purpose of gaining access to said conveyed land, said right of way to be used in common by the grantee and by the grantor, its successors, assigns, and its guest."

The first bound in line nine of the second paragraph above is set forth as being "N47°-15'W". This is an error and the bound is S 47° 15' E and the corrected designation is the proper description of the bound.

Reference is hereby made to the above deeds and their records and to all former deeds and their records for a more particular description of the premises hereby conveyed.

This deed shall be effective as a bill of sale of the contents of the cottage on the premises described herein as parcel one, including furniture, furnishings and appliances.

Justice REHNQUIST is "clearly a brilliant legal scholar," who is also clearly qualified for the position of Chief Justice of the United States. [redacted] does not know REHNQUIST's family nor does he know of them. He has seen no indication of physical or mental health problems with REHNQUIST and likewise he has seen no indication of alcohol abuse or drug usage, although he is aware of a drug dependancy information which was recently published in the Washington area newspapers. He is both a scholar and a gentleman and to the best of [redacted] knowledge, is the best available candidate with the right political bent. [redacted] believes, however, that the candidate is inflexible in his political views. The candidate is well-qualified in terms of legal experience and understanding complex legal issues. He has a very good knowledge of the law. He is both well-spoken and well-written. He seems to have the experience necessary for the position. The candidate's temperament is very much under control. No one has ever registered a complaint or made a comment to [redacted] that the candidate is hot tempered, even under stress. The candidate has the highest professional ethics. He believes in the normal conservative code and abides by it.

The candidate's views on civil rights are well-known, and in his (candidate's) mind they are fair. However, [redacted] believes that the candidate's conservatism is unrelenting and does not take into account all considerations. The candidate is not an advocate of civil rights and has consistently ruled against it. The WASHINGTON BAR ASSOCIATION opposes the candidate's opinion on civil rights and finds it unacceptable, believing that it is a result of the candidate's predisposition. [redacted] does not believe that the candidate is open-minded about civil rights issues. The candidate has his own views on the subject, and these views will not change regardless of the facts presented.

The candidate is active in professional activities. His personal and professional reputation are consistent and unblemished. He is well-respected and a likeable person. Except for the candidate's use of drugs in connection with a health problem, [redacted] knows of no drug use or alcohol abuse. The candidate is a loyal and patriotic American of the highest caliber. To the extent that they are known by [redacted] the candidate's associates are all highly reputable people.

[redacted] stated that the WASHINGTON BAR ASSOCIATION would not recommend the candidate because he is ideologically inflexible and, therefore, cannot judge legal issues of a constitutional nature. [redacted] stated that the candidate comes to court with a predisposition and his mind cannot be changed. No one questions the integrity of the candidate. However, his beliefs are held so strongly that the WASHINGTON BAR ASSOCIATION does not believe the candidate can be fair. The position of the WASHINGTON BAR ASSOCIATION is that a solution should come from litigation and not from a philosophy, which in the case of the candidate is not always possible. The issue of the candidate's nomination is not a question of racism, as is the case in other Presidential appointments to federal judgeships, but rather a question of philosophy.

On June 25, 1986, Special Agent [redacted] contacted [redacted] Women's Bar Association of the District of Columbia. [redacted] advised that the Women's Bar Association had no official position regarding the appointment of the candidate to the U.S. Supreme Court.

On June 25, 1986, Special Agent (SA) [redacted] contacted [redacted] telephone number [redacted] advised he is [redacted] and he provided the following information regarding the candidate, WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST:

[redacted] advised that he does not know the candidate personally; however, he has heard him speak and is aware of many of his decisions. [redacted] explained that he was a law professor for seven years and in this capacity, had many occasions to review many of the candidate's decisions. Further, [redacted] is acquainted with the candidate's reputation through association with many individuals involved in the legal profession in the Washington, D.C. area and through his [redacted] readings.

The candidate has an excellent legal mind which travels in the conservative direction. His thinking is sound but clearly conservative which is consistent and appropriate with the candidate's interpretation of the Constitution. His general knowledge of the law is excellent. [redacted] explained that as a law professor for seven years he had occasion to study many of the candidate's decisions. Although [redacted] did not always agree with the decision, their content and quality were always very good. His style of writing leaves very little unclear about the way he thinks.

The candidate is a very appealing speaker, articulate with a good sense of humor. He is able to present difficult subjects in a balanced light. [redacted] got the impression from hearing the candidate speak that beneath the subject matter was a human element. He has a very good ability to manage complex legal matters.

[redacted] could not recall the amount of courtroom experience the candidate had before coming to the Supreme Court. However, since he has been on the Supreme Court, he has made attempts to broaden his trial experience by sitting on the bench during District Court trials. [redacted] believes this type of activity is a very admirable thing.

In speaking with individuals whom [redacted] trusts, the candidate is described as being very affable and witty. He is easy to speak to and get along with. There is nothing [redacted] has heard that in any way suggests the candidate has anything but the highest ethics. The only probable lapses in judgment which the candidate may have made may have been in his use of drugs in connection with a health problem. However, [redacted] did not see anything in the candidate's work that at all compromised his quality while he was supposedly taking drugs. In fact, [redacted] was quite surprised when he learned of this. [redacted] stated that he could not comment on whether the candidate made a compromise in the quantity of work during his health problems as [redacted] did not know. [redacted] has never heard anything from anyone to suggest that the candidate has ever used any drugs other than in connection with his health problem or abuses alcohol.

[redacted] considers the candidate to be very fair, explaining that his [redacted] view of fairness has a very wide range, and that the candidate is always within this range. At times the candidate views issues with a marked predisposition, but this does not effect his fairness. What results is often a predictable outcome in the interpretation of his cases. [redacted] has never heard of any indication to suggest that the candidate has any biases toward any ethnic or minority group. The candidate's personal reputation is extremely good. People to one degree or another agree or disagree with the candidate's decisions, but they are always fair. Although some people disagree with the candidate's view, [redacted] does not believe his competency can be challenged. The candidate is a very dedicated and hard working individual.

[redacted] recommends the candidate for the position of Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court. He is young enough to carry on, and given his intellect and proven ability for hard work, will enlarge his skills. Although [redacted] does not know of the candidate's administrative skills, [redacted] believes the candidate would probably do a very good job given all the prior indications, if, in fact, administrative qualities are a prerequisite for the job. [redacted] could think of no reason why the candidate should not be chosen as the Chief Justice, calling him a very patriotic and highly responsible individual. The candidate's associates, to the degree they are known by [redacted] are all hard working and highly reputable.

On June 25, 1986, Special Agent [redacted] contacted [redacted] concerning WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST. [redacted] requested that her identity be protected because of her policy of preferring anonymity when her views are likely to be widely circulated. The views expressed by her are her own.

[redacted] advised that she knows the candidate by reputation only; however, being a practicing attorney, she has read and studied some of his decisions. In terms of his ability, the candidate seems very well reasoned and well written. From reading his opinions, the candidate appears to be a very fine jurist. The candidate writes very well and there is no problem in understanding what he is trying to say. He is able to deal with a number of complex issues and in his analysis does not miss any points.

By reputation, his temperament and demeanor are very good. He is a very cordial individual who gets along well with others. It is [redacted] impression that the candidate is fairly intransigent in his position, but she does not know if the candidate becomes upset when someone disputes his views.

In terms of fairness, bias and prejudice, [redacted] stated the candidate has his own view of the world that does not correspond with that of many others. His positions are very conservative. He probably believes he is being fair but in the area of rights for women he takes a view that is too patriarchal. As in the area of civil rights, he is just more conservative than most. [redacted] did not think that the candidate believes he is acting out any prejudices.

The candidate has a reputation of being a very bright judge, well spoken, reasoning well and is very respected for his mind. He is a brilliant kind of person. He demonstrates intellectual honesty in the application of his principles. [redacted] has heard of no alcohol abuse or drug use, other than during his period of illness, on the part of the candidate. [redacted] knows of no reason that the candidate should be precluded from being nominated to the position of Chief Justice except that his views are too conservative, and she would rather have someone else. They obviously differ on their views of many subjects, particularly women's issues, but in terms of reality, he will probably be nominated. At least the candidate is intellectually honest and consistent in the application of his position.

LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted] concerning the candidate, WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST. b6 b7C

On June 26, 1986, [redacted] Police Foundation, 1001 22nd Street, Northwest, Washington, D.C., advised he has been in his current position for a year and before this, he was [redacted] for eleven years. He stated he has no direct knowledge of the candidate and all he knows is what he has obtained from the news media. [redacted] stated he has no direct or indirect adverse information concerning the candidate. Based on this, [redacted] was not able to furnish any additional pertinent comments but stated he had no reason why the candidate should not have a position of trust and confidence in the United States Government, to include that of Chief Justice of the UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

On June 24, 1986, [redacted] NATIONAL ORGANIZATION OF BLACK LAW ENFORCEMENT EXECUTIVES (NOBLE), 6401 Corporate Drive, Suite 360, Landover, Maryland, advised Special Agent (SA) [redacted] that she was not an elected official of NOBLE and did not feel that she should speak for the organization. She stated that she refers such inquiries to [redacted]

On June 25, 1986, [redacted] was interviewed at his office, [redacted] by SA [redacted] stated that he was not personally acquainted with the candidate, Supreme Court Justice WILLIAM REHNQUIST, but that he had no reason to take issue with Justice REHNQUIST's reputation as a distinguished, intelligent, and well-qualified jurist. He said that he had not polled his organization with regard to the candidate's possible appointment as Chief Justice of the United States, but that it was his opinion that the candidate's appointment would not alter the philosophical composition of the court in any significant way. He said that he believed that most of the members of his organization would agree with him on this point.

[redacted] stated that from what he knew of Justice REHNQUIST's philosophy and constitutional interpretations, it was apparent that he is more conservative than the general NOBLE membership, especially on social issues. He stated that he would have no reason to call and to question the candidate's professional ethics or his fairness as a jurist. He said that he had no reason to suspect Justice REHNQUIST of harboring any biases or prejudices and would not take issue with his personal or professional reputation. He stated that he believed that the candidate's position on such civil rights and social issues as affirmative action programs for minorities would not be acceptable by the NOBLE membership, however, he said that he did not attribute the Justice's philosophy to any malice or prejudice. He stated that he was convinced that Justice REHNQUIST was sincere in his beliefs and that he honestly interpreted the Constitution of the United States as he felt it should be interpreted. [redacted] stated that in no way would he ever accuse the candidate of being any kind of a racist or bigot, and would defend him against such charges. He said that he was not in a position to comment with regard to the candidate's legal ability or his conduct on the bench.

[redacted] concluded by stating that he felt he could speak for the NOBLE membership in stating that the organization would not endorse Justice WILLIAM REHNQUIST for appointment as Chief Justice for the United States, but that it would certainly not oppose such an appointment. b6 b7C

[redacted] is, however, generally familiar with REHNQUIST's background through information gained from the media.

From a law enforcement standpoint, REHNQUIST has rendered reasonable and fair decisions that protect public interest and public safety. He has reasonably balanced the interests of individuals and the public at large. [redacted] believes REHNQUIST to be professional and fair with a demonstrated excellence in his legal ability. [redacted] based his comments on the judicial opinions rendered by the candidate while an Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court and on the candidate's professional reputation.

[redacted] advised that he did not have sufficient knowledge to comment on the candidate's legal ability, general knowledge of the law, ability to articulate his positions orally or in written form, ability to manage complex legal matters, areas of specialization, courtroom experience, temperament or professional ethics. [redacted] could provide no negative information concerning the candidate's fundamental fairness. He was aware of no biases or prejudices held by the candidate against any racial, religious or ethnic group. [redacted] had no knowledge of the candidate's degree of civic or professional activity or his major awards or accomplishments. He has met the candidate on various occasions and feels that he knows a good deal about his work from the federal bench. He considers the candidate to be an extraordinary individual, as well as an extraordinary and highly competent judge of the Federal System. The candidate's legal ability, skills, and general knowledge of the law are unsurpassed. The candidate is able to express himself in a very incisive and persuasive manner and is blessed to be extremely articulate. His writing ability is better than most persons in similar positions. He did not have an opinion concerning the candidate's ability to manage complex legal matters or with respect to any specialization he has had within the field of law. Similarly, he had no response concerning the amount and type of the candidate's courtroom experience but did state that the candidate shows very good and judicial temperament. From his observations, the candidate has always demonstrated the highest of professional ethics and he had no reason to believe that the candidate was anything other than completely fair in his legal opinions and administrations. The candidate has not displayed any inclination toward the support of any particular legal or political viewpoint which has lead [redacted] to believe that the candidate was free of biases or prejudices that would prevent him from being completely objective and fair in his interpretations and renderings of the law, including those involving Civil Rights issues. He had no knowledge concerning the candidate's degree of civic, organizational, or professional activity. In addition, he was generally unacquainted with any major awards the candidate might have received only because he had not paid attention to such. No information of any type had come to his attention indicating that the candidate enjoyed anything other than the highest of personal and professional reputations.

It was [redacted] opinion that the candidate is completely honest and trustworthy and is a very sound person in all respects. He is not acquainted with the candidate's associates, friends, or family members, but had not received any information indicating that there were any problems with any of these individuals or that they would reflect unfavorably on the candidate. He had no reason to question that the candidate was completely loyal to the United

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent (SA) [redacted] and SA [redacted] concerning WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST:

On June 25, 1986, [redacted] The Washington Post, 1150 15th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20071, advised he has had limited contact with Justice REHNQUIST over the last several years, but it has been a year since he last saw him. [redacted] stated he was genuinely surprised to be contacted regarding REHNQUIST's suitability for the position of chief justice, and it was in this context that [redacted] furnished the following information:

REHNQUIST seemed to be in good physical and mental health when [redacted] last saw him. During the period four or more years ago when REHNQUIST was suffering back pain, he was taking some drug, and was treated for its effects. [redacted] knew of no additional details regarding the back problem or its subsequent treatment. In personal contacts, REHNQUIST was always "smart as a tack" and a wonderful conversationalist. REHNQUIST is funny with a wonderful sense of humor he can direct at himself and in the form of teasing others. "He gave me a sharp needle at lunch the other day." REHNQUIST has visited the offices of the Post at least a couple of times. He is always cordial. As an example, [redacted] pointed to a situation which arose when REHNQUIST was an assistant attorney general to JOHN MITCHELL. REHNQUIST called [redacted] and asked with the greatest respect that the Post not publish the Pentagon Papers. "I told him with the greatest respect that we were going to do so." The Post was enjoined, and the matter came to be known rather infamously as "not much of a win."

[redacted] was aware of nothing negative about REHNQUIST including all aspects of his character, integrity, loyalty, demeanor, associates, or fairness. [redacted] had no knowledge of any leanings or prejudices against any class of citizen that could affect REHNQUIST's impartiality in case decisions. He has no way of judging REHNQUIST's judicial temperament except to note that he is a much less formal man than Chief Justice BURGER. [redacted] has been somewhat embarrassed to meet Supreme Court justices and "looked up in awe" when he first saw Associate Justice SANDRA DAY O'CONNOR. [redacted] feels he has no basis from which to comment regarding REHNQUIST's administrative or legal abilities, nor to make any recommendation whatsoever regarding REHNQUIST's suitability to become Chief Justice.

There is no information at NBC, either good or bad, on Justice REHNQUIST, and NBC is looking into his background as well. [redacted] concluded by stating that he could suggest no other spokesman for NBC to comment on the suitability for Justice REHNQUIST'S appointment as Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

PHYSICIANS & MEDICAL RECORDS

On June 24, 1986, [redacted] was interviewed by Special Agent (SA) [redacted] furnished the following information: b6 b7C

He could not recall the exact circumstances under which he first met Supreme Court Justice WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST, but stated he first saw him as a patient approximately 25 years ago. He stated that he did not recall whether or not the candidate had come to him on his own or if he had been referred by another physician. He stated that he started treating Judge REHNQUIST at that time for a back problem and had treated him off and on over the years for this recurring back problem. He stated that he had prescribed muscle relaxers and anti-inflamatory medications for Justice REHNQUIST and that this is common, standard procedure in such cases. [redacted] stated that 15 or 20 years ago, he operated on the candidate and removed a disc from his back. He stated that it was his opinion that this basically solved the candidate's back problems, although he has experienced recurring back pain since. [redacted] stated that this was also fairly common for anyone who had experienced back problems. [redacted] attempted to locate the candidate's medical records but determined that they were inaccessible at this time.

[redacted] said that four or five years ago, Justice REHNQUIST was hospitalized at GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL, possibly as a result of injuring his back after some type of strenuous physical activity. At that time, [redacted] stated that he visited the candidate in the hospital and noticed that he seemed somewhat confused and that his normally pleasing personality had changed. He stated that the candidate appeared irritable and somewhat frightened while [redacted] was visiting REHNQUIST at the hospital. He surmised at that time that the candidate was probably going through a delayed withdrawal process attributable to his taking a sleeping medication known as placidyl. He referred Justice REHNQUIST to [redacted] at that time. He has had periodic contact with [redacted] since and she has assured him that Justice REHNQUIST no longer has any problems connected with placidyl or any other medication. He stated that he knows of no medication which the candidate currently takes on a regular basis.

[redacted] stated that the candidate apparently began taking the drug, placidyl, several years ago and after he advised Justice REHNQUIST that his chronic back problem would be alleviated if he made sure he received a good night's sleep regularly. Sometime prior to the candidate's hospitalization at GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL, [redacted] had a conversation with one of the "United States Senate doctors." This individual told [redacted] that he had prescribed the drug placidyl for the candidate to help him sleep. [redacted] assumed that Justice REHNQUIST had obtained this drug as a result of his advice to him to get plenty of rest. He stated that he believed this physician was [redacted] but he could not recall exactly. He stated that he told this individual that the candidate should stop taking placidyl, since it could become addictive and cause delayed withdrawal symptoms, sometimes two or three weeks after a patient stops taking them. [redacted] informed [redacted] the candidate stopped taking the drug and it appeared to [redacted] that REHNQUIST underwent withdrawal symptoms during his hospitalization.

[redacted] stated that in his opinion, the candidate is in excellent health and that a stressful environment should in no way aggravate his back problem. He stated that Justice REHNQUIST is a disciplined individual who practices good health habits. He stated that in addition, he had found the candidate to be a man of excellent character, who leads a modest, unassuming lifestyle and still resides in an unpretentious middle class neighborhood. He said his association with the candidate had been entirely professional, but since he had known him for so many years, he felt that he could make an accurate assessment of his character. He stated that they had not socialized together, although he had been to the candidate's home to see him as a patient.

[redacted] stated that he could not comment regarding the candidate's legal or judicial abilities, and knew of no professional or civic organizations to which he belonged. He also stated that he knew of no major awards or accomplishments which the candidate had received, but he believed that he had graduated first in his class at the STANFORD UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL. He said he would have no reason whatsoever to suspect the candidate of harboring any biases or prejudices against any individual or group, and although they have never discussed political or social issues, he felt that the candidate would be an advocate of equal rights for all. He further stated that he considered the candidate to be a loyal American citizen and a credit to his profession. He reiterated his belief that the candidate suffers from no serious physical ailments and stated that he has received reports from [redacted] to the effect that Justice REHNQUIST has fully recovered. He added, however, that he had not seen the candidate in several years.

[redacted] concluded by stating that he would wholeheartedly endorse Justice WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST for the position of Chief Justice of the United States.

On June 24, 1986, [redacted] was interviewed by SA [redacted] stated that he had been acquainted with Justice WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST, SUPREME COURT, for approximately two years. He stated that he had given the candidate annual physical examinations, but that he had not seen him as a patient otherwise. [redacted] said that his records indicated that he first saw the candidate on June 18, 1985, for a physical examination, but he believed that he had examined him prior to that and it had not been recorded or else the records of this examination had been misfiled. He said that he had found the candidate to be in very good health, although he has suffered from a chronic back problem. He said that the candidate was referred to him by [redacted] who had retired and closed his practice. He said that all of [redacted] patients had been referred to other physicians.

[redacted] stated that his records indicated that the candidate had told him that he had undergone a back operation in 1971 for the removal of a disc. His medical records were unremarkable and disclosed no other serious ailments.

[redacted] stated that it was his opinion that the candidate was in good condition, both physically and mentally, and that he takes good care of himself and maintains his body in good physical condition. He stated that the candidate is very active and plays tennis regularly.

[redacted] stated that he last saw the candidate on June 10, 1986, when he came in for his annual physical examination. He said that he found the candidate to be in excellent health at that time and that there is no record of his taking any kind of medication on a regular basis. He stated that he felt that the candidate's physical and mental condition were such that he could handle stress very easily and he saw no reason why stress or tension should aggravate Justice REHNQUIST's back problem. b6 b7C

[redacted] said that he was not acquainted with the candidate socially and has only seen him in his office on a professional basis. He said that he did not feel qualified to comment regarding the candidate's judicial or legal abilities and knew nothing of his personal achievements or activities. He added, however, that he had no reason to question the candidate's character, reputation, loyalty, or choice of associates, and considered him to be a highly honorable and respectable individual. He stated that from his perspective, he felt that he could recommend Justice WILLIAM H. REHNQUIST for the position of Chief Justice of the United States.

On June 25, 1986, Special Agent (SA) [redacted] contacted [redacted] for the purpose of interviewing her regarding her treatment of the candidate, Supreme Court Justice WILLIAM H. REHNQUIST. [redacted] stated that she would be happy to provide medical information regarding candidate, however, she was prohibited from doing so unless the candidate executed a Consent for Release of Information prepared by the medical center in compliance with the District of Columbia Mental Health Information Act of 1978. She stated that this consent form was specific in its nature, identifying the exact information to be provided, and the identity of the individual requesting such information. She stated that it would be necessary for her to have the original copy of this form, signed by the candidate, in her possession before she could release any information. She stated that she would advise the candidate of this situation and would notify SA [redacted] when she was in possession of the release form.

On June 26, 1986, after advising SA [redacted] that she had obtained the candidate's proper consent, [redacted] was interviewed by SA [redacted] She furnished the following information:

She first met the candidate, Justice WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST, on December 30, 1981, at the GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL after he was admitted on December 27, 1981. She stated that he believed that he went there for tension and anxiety, because he felt that he was having problems related to these ailments. He checked himself into the Department of Neurosurgery, probably because he had been treated in that department before and he knew most of the staff. Justice REHNQUIST had begun to express bizarre ideas and outrageous thoughts. He imagined, for instance, that there was a CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY (CIA) plot against him and he also suffered from illusions, such as seeming to see the designed patterns on the hospital curtains change configuration. He had also gone to the hospital lobby in his pajamas in order to try to escape. In addition, he thought that he heard voices outside of his room discussing various plots against him. [redacted] stated that the candidate probably heard voices in the hallway, but that his mental state was such that he jumped to unnecessary conclusions regarding the substance of the conversation. She stated that such actions were symptoms of metabolic encephalopathy, which she said could be generally defined as delirium.

[redacted] examined the candidate in his hospital room and performed a mental status examination. She stated that she believed that the Justice's wife was in the room at that time. She concluded from her examination that there was some impairment of concentration and memory and some confusion present. He seemed to realize, however, that his thoughts were unusual and bizarre and she believed that this realization was probably why he checked himself into the hospital. She stated that the absolute worst diagnosis of someone exhibiting such behavior would be to conclude that that person was a drug addict, who simply "went crazy" when use of a particular drug was discontinued. She stated, however, that this was not the case and that she determined, during the course of treating the candidate, that he was given a prescription drug, known as placidyl by a physician on Capitol Hill who is available to members of Congress, members of the SUPREME COURT, and perhaps other government officials. She said that she did not recall the name of the physician who had prescribed this drug. She added, however, that she believed that the candidate had probably taken it as a sleep aid. He was taking 1400 mg daily of this drug and after a period of time, [redacted] and some court reporters had noticed that the candidate had difficulty speaking and walking and exhibited drowsiness. She stated that the drug, placidyl, was not widely used by the medical profession today, since other more reliable, safer drugs had been developed which could provide the same result. She stated that placidyl is a highly toxic drug and she could not understand why anyone would prescribe it. She stated that she could think of no circumstances at all under which she would prescribe this drug for anyone. She stated that taking placidyl in such large doses was dangerous and she felt that any physician who prescribed it was practicing very bad medicine, bordering on malpractice. She further stated that there appeared to be no restrictions on refills of this drug and she felt that this was very irresponsible also. She stated that she believed that the candidate received bad medical treatment from the doctor who prescribed this drug and that the pharmacist who filled the prescription should have also warned the candidate of its possible effects. She cited a warning regarding placidyl, which appears in the 1986 edition of the "Physicians Desk Reference," to wit:

"Placidyl should be administered with caution to mentally depressed patients with or without suicidal tendencies. It should also be administered with caution to those who have a psychological potential for drug dependance. The least amount of drug that is feasible should be prescribed for these patients. Prolonged use of placidyl may result in tolerance and psychological and physical dependance. Prolonged administration of the drug is not recommended."

[redacted] said that this warning might not have appeared in the 1982 edition of this publication. b6 b7C

She said that the effects of taking this drug were two-fold. First, the toxicity of the drug causes such things as blurred vision, slurred speech, and difficulty in making physical movements. Once a patient stops taking the drug, the withdrawal symptoms of metabolic encephalopathy (delirium) begin. She stated that it was her opinion that the candidate began suffering the symptoms of the toxicity and then either on his own or on the advice of a physician, stopped taking the drug immediately. Such total and immediate discontinuance of its use brought about his delirium.

[redacted] stated that she initially treated the candidate by giving him a daily dosage of 1400 mg of placidyl, plus an anti-psychotic drug. Within hours, his mental state was changing for the better and by the next day he seemed to be perfectly normal. She began reducing the dosage of placidyl from 1400 mg per day on January 11, 1982, to none at all on February 7, 1982. At the end of this period of detoxification, at which time the candidate remained at home and she visited him there, he showed no sign of toxicity and exhibited no side effects from the use of the drug or from its withdrawal. She stated that it was her opinion at that time that he was cured. She added that there was no chance of any spontaneous reoccurrence of the delirium or of the symptoms of the toxicity.

[redacted] stated that she found the candidate to be a very cooperative and compliant patient. She stated that he appeared to be genuinely interested in helping himself and expressed no anger or malice toward anyone for prescribing this drug. She stated that the candidate's wife, however, was highly upset over this incident and felt that the doctor who prescribed the drug and the pharmacist who provided him with the prescription were probably intimidated by such high ranking officials as Supreme Court Justices, United States Senators, etcetera that they would acquiesce to almost any request from one of these individuals. She said that she believed that the candidate went to the hospital because he knew something was wrong and wished to find a cure. She stated that she could attribute no culpability at all to the candidate, himself, in this matter and was of the opinion that he was a victim of poor medical and pharmaceutical practices. She summed her opinion up by stating that the medical term for this entire affair was known as a iatrogenic illness, which means in laymen's terms, "the doctors did it to you."

[redacted] said that she had not had any contact with the candidate since she discontinued his treatment in early 1982. She said that therefore, she did not feel she should comment regarding Justice REHNQUIST's fitness for the position of Chief Justice of the United States from a medical point of view. She further stated that she had no direct knowledge of his judicial ability and was not competent in that area to make a judgement. She added, however, that the candidate and his wife both impressed her as responsible, respectable, intelligent people and she had no reason to question the loyalty, integrity, or moral character of either of them. She added that she did not feel qualified to comment regarding WILLIAM H. REHNQUIST's qualifications or suitability for the position of Chief Justice of the United States.

The following investigation was conducted by (SA) [redacted] in regard to the candidate, WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST.

On June 26, 1986, [redacted] Attending Physician, United States Capitol, Washington, D.C., advised that he has seen the candidate on a regular basis, for medical treatment, from 1972-1982. He further advised that he saw Justice REHNQUIST for physical examinations annually during that period and off and on when needed. [redacted] described Justice REHNQUIST's history of back problems which resulted in an operation in 1971. In addition, the candidate had a benign rectal polyp surgically removed in 1978, and he has had a history of cronic sleep problems.

[redacted] indicated that prior to his seeing the candidate in 1972, Justice REHNQUIST was prescribed Placidyl for relief from the symptoms of insomnia. This medication was prescribed by a Doctor but [redacted] denied any knowledge of the identity of this physician. [redacted] did report that he did not put the candidate on this medication but [redacted] continued to prescribe placidyl for the entire ten year period that he treated Justice REHNQUIST.

[redacted] advised that to the best of his knowledge, the candidate took nightly doses of placidyl until the beginning of December, 1981. [redacted] indicated that the candidate had been taking this medication for a long time and [redacted] decided to discontinue its use and to try another medication called Benadryl. The candidate complained that this medication was not strong enough. [redacted] then prescribed Chloral Hydrate and later Carbrital, which is a Barbituate. These medication changes took place during a two week period from the middle of December, 1981 until December 29, 1981, when Justice REHNQUIST was hospitalized. At that point, [redacted] treatment of the candidate terminated and [redacted] took over the candidate's medical treatment and hospitalization.

[redacted] reported that the reason for the candidate's hospitalization was recorded as recurrent back pain and insomnia. [redacted] could provide no information relative to the candidate's stay in the hospital. He advised that he could not say whether the candidate's withdrawal from the effects of chemical dependence was the reason for the hospitalization. However, [redacted] did indicate that he talked with [redacted] after Justice REHNQUIST's hospitalization and [redacted] indicated that the candidate was taken off all medication in the hospital and he experienced the symptoms of withdrawal.

ACB:amw

[redacted] denied that the candidate's past physical problems or history of chemical dependence would in any way make Justice REHNQUIST medically unsuitable for an appointment as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. In addition, [redacted] denied any knowledge of psychiatric treatment or alcohol abuse problems on the part of Justice REHNQUIST.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent (SA) [redacted] in regard to the candidate, WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST. b6 b7C

On July 1, 1986, [redacted] Attending Physician, United States Capitol, Washington, D.C., advised that approximately six or seven months prior to the candidate's hospitalization in 1981, Justice REHNQUIST was taking about three times the amount of placidyl that was prescribed. [redacted] further advised that the candidate was prescribed a dosage level of 500 miligrams of placidyl per evening but Justice REHNQUIST was actually taking 1500 miligrams each night. According to [redacted] this increased consumption of medication may have occurred concurrently with Mrs. REHNQUIST's illness and treatment for cancer. At that time, Justice REHNQUIST informed [redacted] that he was taking one pill before going to bed and he would take other pills if he awakened during the night. [redacted] admitted that the candidate was taking more placidyl than was required and more than he prescribed.

[redacted] advised that he would write the candidate's prescription for placidyl which would provide a three month supply of the drug. He indicated that during a six month period prior to the candidate's hospitalization in 1981, Justice REHNQUIST was refilling this prescription approximately once each month. This in effect was demonstrating the candidate's use of placidyl at about three times the rate which was prescribed. [redacted] indicated that the candidate denied ever taking placidyl during the day time or on any occasion other than before going to bed in the evening.

[redacted] further advised that to the best of his knowledge, Justice REHNQUIST has not abused or taken any other medication, on a regular basis, since 1981.

On June 27, 1986, [redacted] GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER (GWUMC), Washington, D.C., telephone [redacted] advised Special Agent (SA) [redacted] that prior to releasing any medical information pertaining to the treatment of Supreme Court Justice WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST a GWUMC release form would have to be executed by REHNQUIST. The hospital release form is necessary, as some of the information to be released falls under the provisions of the District of Columbia Mental Health Information Act of 1978, which prevents disclosure of information unless a properly executed release form is signed by the patient. On same date, SA [redacted] obtained Authorization for Release of Information form from the GWUMC pertaining to in-patient visits in 1977, 1980 and 1982. This release form was executed by Justice WILLIAM H. REHNQUIST on June 27, 1986 and provided to [redacted] at Medical Records on same date. He then released medical records pertaining to the treatment of REHNQUIST on five separate occasions. [redacted] stated that records for each visit should consist of, among other things, a "final summary" or "discharge summary" prepared by one of the treating physicians. [redacted] noticed that the hospital visits beginning on May 16, 1977 and December 27, 1981 and did not contain such summary sheets. [redacted] could only speculate that REHNQUIST's records were placed in an administrator's office for safe keeping, and the file summary sheet was inadvertently never dictated. The records contained the following pertinent information.

She indicated that in addition to the current symptoms, "family has also noted long standing slurred speech which seems to coincide with administration of Placidyl." She indicated that patient's chronic back pain had also led to his heavy use of such substances such as Darvon and Tylenol 3, which has also played a part in the patient's condition. [redacted] stated that the patient had "some difficulty with date and events of last week or so. Memory functions are somewhat impaired..." [redacted] had made the notation of "Placidyl withdrawal" and prescribed dosages of Placidyl to be discontinued over a period of several weeks. On January 1, 1982, according to the Clinical Record, [redacted] noted improvement since December 30, 1981 and indicated the patient was oriented. On June 27, 1986, [redacted] GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER, Washington, D.C., telephone [redacted] advised Special Agent (SA) [redacted] that before any medical records could be released pertaining to the out-patient treatment of WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST, a George Washington University Medical Center (GWUMC) Authorization for Release of Information form would have to be executed by Justice REHNQUIST. On June 27, 1986, such a form was executed by Justice REHNQUIST pertaining to out-patient visits in January, 1982.

[redacted] advised that he had treated the candidate, but wished to obtain Justice REHNQUIST's oral permission to speak with the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) before doing so. [redacted] was contacted later in the day, at which time he advised that he had spoken with Justice REHNQUIST, who had given his permission for the interview with the FBI pertaining to his medical treatment by [redacted] On July 2, 1986, [redacted] furnished the following information:

He first met REHNQUIST in about January, 1982, during REHNQUIST's hospitalization at GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER. He was called in by [redacted] as REHNQUIST had expressed an interest in seeing an internist which is [redacted] field of specialization. At this time, [redacted] determined that REHNQUIST was not in need of an internist, but if the need should arise in the future, REHNQUIST should feel free to contact him. [redacted] recalled that REHNQUIST appeared to him to be completely normal and lucid.

In May, 1982, [redacted] did have occasion to examine Justice REHNQUIST at his medical office, and determined that he may be in need of an operation for a hernia. [redacted] referred Justice REHNQUIST to a [redacted] at GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER. REHNQUIST had a hernia operation the following month, in June, 1982. On May 18, 1983, [redacted] gave Justice REHNQUIST a physical and pronounced him in perfect health. At that time, Justice REHNQUIST was taking Motrin, an anti-inflammatory drug for his back problem, which can now be purchased over the counter. On June 15, 1984, [redacted] again gave Justice REHNQUIST a physcial examination and determined he was in superb condition. At this time he was completely off medication and was active in such pursuits as tennis and gardening.

According to [redacted] records, Justice REHNQUIST saw [redacted] in May, 1983. At this time he had a mole removed from his forehead which was determined to be a small malignancy. As far as [redacted] knows, Justice REHNQUIST has not had this mole recur, or any others removed. In addition to [redacted] REHNQUIST was also seeing [redacted] regarding his back.

Following Justice REHNQUIST's June, 1984, physical, [redacted] decided to semi-retire, and referred him to [redacted]

It was the opinion of [redacted] that REHNQUIST was one of "the greatest guys around." He is very friendly, down to earth and extremely bright. [redacted] is not aware of any adverse information regarding Justice REHNQUIST, and could only speak about him in a very positive way. [redacted] concluded by stating he was thrilled that Justice REHNQUIST had been nominated to be Chief Justice of the United States, and that he had written him a letter telling him so. [redacted] could think of no better choice than WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST for this position.

FINAL DIAGNOSIS: Degenerative disc disease.

HPI: This 55-year-old white male right-handed Supreme Court justice has a long history of low back pain. He had a left L4-L5 lumbar laminectomy in 1971 with good symptomatic relief. He later began having episodic left buttock pain and had two episodes of traction at GWUH in 1977 with good symptom relief. He felt himself to be in good condition until 1980 when he began noticing increased left hip pain and decrease in daily activities. There is an important court case pending and may have long, frequent sessions and so he is in for evaluation. The patient states he has left hip tightness which is episodic and it gives frequent backache. He denies any lower extremity pain, but admits to left foot numbness with increased standing, and he has infrequent paresthesia of the left foot with prolonged sitting in one position. He denies bowel or bladder symptoms but states he has noted a left foot clumsiness since the last traction in 1977.

PH: Adult medical problems include sigmoidoscopy in 1976 at which time a colon polyp was found. Since that time he has had frequent checkups with negative results. Hospitalizations include tonsillectomy as a child, L4-L5 left laminectomy in 1971 and traction at GWUH times two in 1977. The patient denies any drug allergies.

ROS: Abdomen - colon polyp found in 1976 for which he has frequent negative checkups. The patient also admits to infrequent anal fissures which bleeding on toilet paper.

PE: General- a well-developed, well-nourished adult white male in no acute distress. HEENT - atraumatic. TM's obscured by cerumen. Hearing was normal. EOM's were intact. PERRLA. FUndi were benign. Visual fields equal by confrontation. Neck was supple and without adenopathy. The lungs were clear to auscultation and resonant to percussion. Symmetrical chest expansion. Heart - regular rhythm. Rate of 76. No murmurs, gallops or rubs. The pulses were 2+/2+ and symmetrical bilaterally. The patient had no carotid, femoral, or renal bruits. The abdomen - active bowel sounds. No hepatosplenomegaly, nontender. Good sphincter tone. Stool guaiac was negative. Prostate was firm and nontender. Musculoskeletal - full cervical, upper and lower extremity ROM. Good heel and toe walk. Good tandem walk. Good handgrip bilaterally. Negative straight leg raise bilaterally. Neurological - mental status was oriented times three and alert. Cranial nerves II through XII were intact. Motor - all groups tested were 5/5 and symmetrical, except for a decreased left EHL which was 4/5. Sensory - intact to touch and vibration and joint position sense. The patient had questionable decreased pin prick on the lateral aspect of the left foot and top of left great toe. DTR's were symmetrical bilaterally, except for an absent left ankle jerk. The sign of Babinski was not present. The patient has no spasm and no clonus. Cerebellar was wnl.

IMPRESSION:
1. Status post lumbar laminectomy left L4-L5.
2. Rule out left HNP, L5-S1.

LAB: Admission sodium was 140, K was 4.3, chloride was 103, CO2 28, BUN 19, creatinine was 1.3. Admission SMA 12 was within normal limits. Admission CBC showed white count of 6.8, hgb 14.9, hct 42.7. Differential showed segs of 41, lymphs 45, monocytes 5 and eosinophils 9. Repeat diff showed 43 segs, 56 lymphs and 1 eos. Eos count was 356 per cubic millimeter, normal is 50-500 per cubic millimeter. ESR was 6. Admission UA showed specific gravity of 1.016, pH 7.0, 0-1 white blood cells. Spinal fluid appearance was clear and colorless. There were two white blood

SUPPLEMENTARY NEUROSURGICAL REPORT

REHNQUIST, Justice William June 25, 1980

This patient states that he is much better than he was one year ago and certainly much improved then he was when we were treating him in 1977. He has chronic discomfort in the left gluteal region from time to time. There is no sciatic radiation. He plays paddle tennis and walks often, up to three or four miles. He swims regularly. He does not always do his exercises regularly. He has had a recent minor exacerbation and took some Motrin. which seems to have helped him. He does not wear his back support very often. He takes Tylenol #3 from 0 to 3 times a day. He takes Darvon Compound from time to time and Valium depending on his discomfort. He feels he is doing fairly well though he would certainly welcome complete relief of symptoms. He says his back does seem to interfere with sexual relations because for some reason this activity intensifies the discomfort.

On examination, there is no tenderness over the well healed scar. There is no tenderness over the buttocks. There is slight straightening of the normal lumbar curve. There is only slight limitation of forward and backward bending. Straight leg raising test is negative. There is no definite motor weakness, though at times I wonder about a little weakness of ventroflexion. Ankle reflex tends to be hypoactive on the right, less active on the left. There are no sensory abnormalities.

It is my impression that his most recent problem is due to a disc at the L5-S1 level rather than the old L4-L5 level. He does not manifest clinical findings that would make me feel we should consider myelography or surgery. I am advising him to continue with the medications as above. I am asking him to take a course of Motrin for one month. I have given him a prescription for Tylenol #3 and Valium as well as some samples of Motrin to take with him as he is planning to be away for two months.

Associates in Neurology

Approximately nine years ago, in 1971, after a major gardening effort, he complained of stiffness of the back and then pain on the left side radiating to the left leg. After a very short period of conservative therapy, myelography and laminectomies were performed with removal of an ? L5-S1 disc on the left. He became essentially asympatomatic after a few months and resumed all this work and athletic activities. In 1977, there was a recurrence, back was stiff, he responded to one week of bedrest and traction. X-rays of the back were inconclusive. Again had radiation to the left leg. He had three such episodes in 1977 and was essentially well until June 20th of this year when because of persisting, nagging left lower backache he was checked by his neurosurgeon who found no neurological abnormalities and suggested that he come back in September for possible re-examination.

Ever since coming up to Vermont, Mr. Rehnquist has had some discomfort and pain in his left lower back and buttock, without radiation to the left leg although after walking he will have some numbness of the left foot. The pain is relieved by lying down, usually feels fine in the morning upon awakening. He took a course of Motrin and of butazoladine, takes occasional Valium as well as Tylenol III and Darvon which affords him some relief. He denies any bladder problems but has had nocturia for some time. He has been doing exercises quite faithfully as well as swimming which also makes him feel better.

Examination was remarkable only in the fact that both ankle jerks are absent although he tells me that the right ankle jerk has been difficult to obtain for many years. There were no sensory changes noted, straight leg raising was normal on both sides, no tenderness at the sciatic notch, no weakness but a great deal of paraspinal muscle asm.

I have the impression that there is no radiculopathy at the present time but that he is suffering from lumbosacral sprain. I should add that he has a slight pelvic tilt.

THERAPY:
1) Warm bath for a minimum of 15 minutes every night before going to bed
2) Tranxene 22.5 long acting at bedtime
3) Continue with analgesic to be taken at the very onset of the pain. Given a prescription for Percodan if the Darvon or Tylenol are not effective.

EMG will be done this afternoon. Will call with report on July 28th.

He has an important case pending in Court, and may have long, frequent sessions soon, so he is in for evaluation. Pt states he has (D) hip tightness - episodic - that gives frequent backache. He denies lower ext. pain, but admits to (D) foot numbness c̄ ↑ standing, and he has infrequent paresthesia of (D) foot c̄ prolonged sitting in one position. He denies bowel or bladder c/o, but states he has noticed (R) foot clumbsiness since last traction in '77.

5-E [redacted]

CT OF LUMBAR SPINE: The lumbar spine was examined from L2 through S1 with a 8 mm. slice without contrast.

A prior laminectomy has been performed at left L4-5. There is a bony spur at left L5-S1 projecting into the neural foramina and narrowing it. The neural foramina appear intact at the higher levels. There is some hypertrophy of the lamina and ligaments at L3-4 and L2-3, without evidence for canal stenosis. A degenerative disc is noted at L3-4.

IMPRESSION:

1. Prior laminectomy, left L4-5.
2. Degenerative disc, L3-4.
3. Bony spur projecting on the neural foramina at left L5-S1.

10 01 24 REHNQUIST, WILLIAM LUMBAR METRIZAMIDE MYELOGRAM 8/1/80

TECHNIQUE: 22 gauge needle placed at L2-3 by Dr. Roach of Neural Radiology and 13 to 14 cc. of 220 mg./ml. Amipaque inserted subarachnoid.

FINDING: A ventral defect is present at L3-4 representative of a degenerative disc with no lateralization. Minor hypertrophy of the lamina and ligaments posteriorly without canal stenosis. There is early incomplete filling of the left L5 nerve root but this fills well on later films and is most likely related to the prior surgery. The S1 nerve roots fill well bilaterally. The conus appears normal.

IMPRESSION:
1. Post-operative change, left S1 nerve root, with delayed filling.
2. Degenerative disc, L3-4.

CONSULTANT'S REPORT

Asked to see pt. because of relatively sudden onset of decreased orientation, illusions, delusions, and hallucinations. This has occurred in the setting of long standing "Placidyl" use (1500-2000 mgm q.d.) which was discontinued on 12/15/81. In addition to these current sx, family has also noted lengthening slurred speech which seems to coincide c̄ administration of "Placidyl". Chronic back pain has also led to heavy use of analgesic agents, including "Darvon", Tylenol III, which may also have played some role pt's sx.

In gen — pt. lapsed into stupor for some difficulty with date and events of last week or so; attention span (as tested by digit repetition) was but vigilance was preserved. Memory functions are markedly impaired — suggesting a frontal type functional lesion. No actual illusions, delusions, etc. or sign of psychosis. Intellectual function and judgment impaired.

Imp. Metabolic encephalopathy 2° to "Placidyl" withdrawal

Plan: (1) Re-institute "Placidyl" which will then be slowly discontinued over period of sev. wks. (2) Haloperidol until sx of acute psychosis clear (3) Review mental status due on 12/15

RADIOLOGIST'S FINDINGS AND CONCLUSION

10-01-24 REHIQUIST, William CHEST, PA & LATERAL 12/29/81
5E

CHEST: Fibrocalcific changes are again visible in the right hilar region. There is no evidence of active pulmonary or pleural disease. The cardiovascular silhouette, mediastinum and diaphragm are normally outlined. Mild degenerative bone changes are present.

Comparison to the study of 7/30/80 reveals no significant interval change in findings.

ADMITTING DIAGNOSIS: Right inguinal hernia.

FINAL DIAGNOSIS: Same.

PRESENT ILLNESS: This is a 57-year old white male who first noticed a bulge in his right groin approximately four weeks ago. He denied any pain or any strenuous activity related to presentation of his bulge. He is a smoker but denies chronic cough. He denies constipation. He admits, however, to some slowing of streams but denies straining upon urination. He is admitted to the hospital for an elective right inguinal hernia repair.

PAST HISTORY: The patient has a history of chronic back pain and is status-post lumber laminectomy. He denies any other major medical problems.

SURGICAL HISTORY: 1. T&A.
2. Lumbar laminectomy.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 07-17-2006 BY 60309/UC/TAM/DCG/YMW

MEDICATIONS: Tylenol PRN back pain.

ALLERGIES: No known drug allergies.

REVIEW OF SYSTEMS: Non-contributory except for his past history of low back pain and some complaints of numbness in his feet, post-laminectomy. He has been hospitalized following surgery for treatment with traction. He denies any change in bowel habits, chest pain, or palpitations.

PHYSICAL EXAM: He is a well-developed, well-nourished white male in no acute distress. HEENT unremarkable. Neck showed no thyroid palpable. No bruit. The chest is clear. Cardiovascular is regular rate and rhythm, without murmur. There is no CVA tenderness. Abdomen is soft and bowel sounds hypoactive. Non-tender, with no masses appreciated. The back had a well-healed laminectomy scar. GU showed a right inguinal hernia, which is reduceable. There is also a cystic structure on the left cord, which probably represents a hydrocele of the left spermatic cord. Extremities - no edema. Neurologic - there is good motor strength in his distal lower extremities. There is a slight decrease in sensation in the distal lower extremities to tactile stimulation. Rectal exam was performed by [redacted] in his office prior to admission and was deferred at this time.

The patient was informed that his prostate was not enlarged such as to require surgery prior to his hernia repair.

LABORATORY DATA: Urinalysis normal. CBC normal. SMA 12 normal. EKG normal. Chest x-ray showed no active pulmonary disease.

CONSULTATIONS: None.

SURGERY: Operation performed on 6/14/82 - right inguinal hernia repair, using a McVay. Path diagnosis: 1. Hernia sac.
2. Lipoma.
3. Small leiomyoma.

OPERATIVE FINDINGS: Lipoma of the cord and an associated indirect hernia sac which had the medial wall consisting of sliding component of the bladder. There was also a weakened inguinal floor and associated direct hernia. The ileoinguinal nerve was identified and preserved.

SURGICAL PROCEDURE: The patient was taken to the operating room where he underwent general anesthesia by inhalation without complication. The patient was prepped and draped in a sterile fashion. A 6-8 cm skin incision was made along the lines of the skin folds overlying the inguinal canal. The incision was carried down through the subcutaneous tissue to expose the aponeurosis of the external oblique. Small vessels were controlled by #000 catgut ligatures. The external inguinal ring was identified. The external oblique was incised in the direction of the fibers. With care to avoid the underlying structures, the ileoinguinal nerve was opened through the external inguinal ring and the incision likewise extended laterally approximately 3 cm. The spermatic cord was mobilized at the pubic tubercle. The ileoinguinal nerve was identified low and inferiorly on the spermatic cord. This was dissected from the cord and kept out of the operative field and preserved. The cremasteric fibers were separated proximally on the spermatic cord. The vas deferens was identified and kept away from the area of dissection. There was a lipoma of the cord on the anterior medial surface of the cord. This was dissected from the associated spermatic cord structures and an indirect hernia sac identified. The hernia sac likewise was dissected from the associated structures. Once this was completed, and the sac was skeletonized down to the peritoneal reflection and the point where the inferior epigastric vessels were identified, the sac was opened. Once the sac was opened, examination revealed the medial wall to be consisting of perivesicular fatty tissue. At this point, the hernia sac was opened from the lateral wall down to approximately 1/2 cm above the peritoneal ring. At this point, the excess hernia sac was excised and the hernia sac closed using a #00 silk ligature in a fashion as to incorporate the bladder tissue into the closure. At this time once the hernia sac was closed, a purse-string suture was placed around the proximal tissue of the hernia sac and by inverting the closed stump of the hernia sac, the bladder wall was inverted as the purse-string was tied to completely close off the previous hernia sac. It then retracted under the oblique muscle spontaneously. At this time, the inguinal floor was repaired using a McVey hernia repair by approximating the conjoined tendon to the pubic tubercle and the lucnar ligamant medially and using interrupted #00 Neurolon sutures, repair was performed from medial to lateral by approximating the conjoined tendon to the transversalis fascia. The transition stitch was made without injury to the femoral vein. The internal ring was thus recreated such as to admit one fingertip through the internal ring. The ileoinguinal nerve was identified at its point as it came out along the cremasteric set near the internal inguinal ring and preserved. The wound was irrigated out with saline. There was no evidence of any bleeding at this time. The ileoinguinal nerve was placed back in its normal anatomoical position as was the spermatic cord. The external oblique was repaired using interrupted #00 surgilon sutures. The subcutaneous tissue likewise was approximated with #000 catgut interrupted sutures and the skin was closed with a #4-0 interrupted vertical mattress nylon suture. Sterile, dry dressing was applied. The patient was taken tothe Recovery room in stable condition.

CURRENT SPECIMEN: 1. Hernia sac; 2. Lipoma of cord.

GROSS DESCRIPTION: The specimens are received in two containers fixed in formalin.

The first specimen is labeled "hernia sac." It consists of one piece of tissue partly membranous, gray and soft and partly composed of adipose tissue. It is irregular in shape, rather elongated and measures 9.0 x 2.0 x 0.5 cm. in its largest dimension. There is a small nodule whitish, firm, well circumscribed within the adipose tissue. It measures 0.3 cm. in its largest dimension. Representative sections are submitted in cassette A.

The second specimen is labeled "lipoma of cord." It consists of one piece of tissue irregular in shape, yellowish and partially encapsulated by a delicate capsule. It measures 4.0 x 2.0 x 0.5 cm. in its largest dimension. On cut section it is composed of unremarkable adipose tissue. Representative section is submitted in cassette B.

1971 Rehnquist Account Is Challenged by 3 Men

'Ballot Security' Role in '60s Called Active

By George Lardner Jr. and Al Kamen
Washington Post Staff Writers

Three men yesterday contradicted Supreme Court Justice William H. Rehnquist's account during his 1971 confirmation hearings of the role he played in a controversial Republican "ballot security" program in Phoenix in the early 1960s.

Rehnquist, President Reagan's nominee for chief justice of the United States, had said he was in overall charge of the programs, but declared that he never personally engaged in challenging the credentials or literacy of Democratic minority voters.

But two of the witnesses interviewed yesterday said that they saw Rehnquist challenging black and Hispanic voters in the Arizona city. The third, a former assistant U.S. attorney who was sent to one precinct to investigate complaints of harassment, said Rehnquist was definitely a member of a group that was "aggressively challenging minority voters by looking at them coming up in line and saying, 'You don't know how to read.' "

The former prosecutor, James J. Brosnahan, now a senior partner in a San Francisco law firm, said he had no doubt that it was Rehnquist he saw and that it was not a case of "mistaken identity" as the majority report of the Senate Judiciary Committee suggested in 1971 when the charges were first aired.

Brosnahan was emphatic in attacking the "mistaken identity" suggestion.

Rehnquist could not be reached for comment. Rehnquist's Senate confirmation hearings are scheduled to begin Tuesday.

The three witnesses, Brosnahan, a self-described liberal Democrat, and two Phoenix residents, Charles W. Pine and the Rev. Snelson W. McGriff, were cited in a special report by the Nation Institute, a liberal group affiliated with The Nation magazine. All three confirmed their remarks and provided additional details yesterday in separate interviews.

Charges of voter harassment against Rehnquist first surfaced at the 1971 hearings on his appointment to the Supreme Court.

Rehnquist denied any improprieties at the 1971 hearings, both in direct testimony and later in a lengthy letter to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

In his letter, Rehnquist said that he had been in charge of GOP "ballot security" programs and similar efforts conducted by lawyers' committees in the biennial elections in Phoenix from 1958 through 1964. However, he said, that "in none of these years did I personally engage in challenging the qualifications of any voters."

Pine, a Phoenix public relations man and state Democratic Party chairman from 1972 to 1976, said he saw Rehnquist on one occasion approach two prospective voters waiting in line outside the polling place of a predominantly black and Hispanic precinct and ask them if they were qualified voters.

"He challenged one and then another," Pine recalled yesterday. "Both were black men and both left the line." He said Rehnquist was with one or two other men and they left together after the incident, with Rehnquist driving. Pine said Rehnquist was part of what he called Republican "flying squads" going from precinct to precinct in heavily Democratic areas, either in 1962 or 1964.

Told of Rehnquist's 1971 disclaimer of any such activity, Pine said: "If he wants to say that, he can. But I disagree." Neither Brosnahan nor Pine spoke up in 1971, saying they thought about it, but decided not to bother. McGriff submitted an affidavit in 1971 saying he saw Rehnquist challenging voters at McGriff's polling place, located in the Bethune school. McGriff said he thought it was in 1964, but was not positive.

"If it wasn't him [Rehnquist], it was his twin brother," McGriff said. "He had a card in his hand .... He'd say, 'Read this' .... I looked him right in the eye. I wasn't going to read that card. I was going to put my fist in his mouth."

Rehnquist told the Senate committee that he strongly disapproved of "any scattergun use of literacy challenges" and on one occasion in 1962 went to the Bethune precinct to tell one overzealous Republican challenger there to stop demanding that voters prove their literacy by reading printed passages from the Constitution as they waited to vote.

Literacy challenges were later prohibited by the Civil Rights Act of 1964, but they were permissible in Arizona before then so long as they did not amount to harassment.

Brosnahan, however, said there were enough complaints about the GOP challenges at the Bethune precinct in 1962 that he went there with an FBI agent to investigate.

"Brosnahan said he found a small "group" of Republicans, including Rehnquist, there challenging voters on a random basis, asking Hispanic voters if they could read English and black voters if they could read at all. "They would do this right in line, rather than getting a person off to the side," Brosnahan said. "Telling one person after another, 'You can't read,' is an aggressive thing to do .... "

"My best recollection is that he [Rehnquist] was challenging voters," Brosnahan said, "but that was 1962 and this is 1986. I know he has denied that, but I have asked myself in fairness what I can remember."

"This was a group that deliberately set out to discourage and harass minority voters on the subject of whether they could read. The concept that Mr. Rehnquist was somehow supervising and making it better is one that conflicts with my recollection. I am very firm about that," Brosnahan said.

The 1971 Senate Judiciary Committee report dismissed the voter harassment charges as "wholly unsubstantiated," but a Democratic minority complained that the allegations had not been adequately investigated or effectively refuted.

Staff writer Saundra Saperstein contributed to this report.

THE CONSTITUTION AND ASKED BLACKS AND MINORITIES TO PROVE THEY WERE LITERATE BY READING THE EXCERPT ALOUD. THE ACTIVITY DISCOURAGED THE BLACK VOTERS WHO THEN DID NOT VOTE.

AS THE DAY PROGRESSED, DEMOCRATIC POLL WATCHERS BECAME INSENSED AND TELEPHONED PARTY OFFICIALS AND LAW ENFORCEMENT PERSONNEL, MANY OF WHOM ARRIVED AT THE SCENE AND ATTEMPTED TO DISUADE THE REPUBLICAN CHALLENGERS. FINALLY, A SCUFFLE ENSUED, AND THE REPUBLICANS DEPARTED. CONTEMPORANEOUS INVESTIGATION WAS CONDUCTED, HOWEVER, FEW INDIVIDUALS WERE INTERVIEWED AND PROSECUTION DECLINED.

SHORTLY BEFORE THE 1971 REHNQUIST CONFIRMATION HEARINGS, SEVERAL INDIVIDUALS STEPPED FORTH AND ADVISED THAT REHNQUIST WAS A PARTICIPANT AND/OR AT LEAST PRESENT. REHNQUIST DENIED HE WAS A PARTICIPANT, AND HE DOES NOT RECALL BEING ON THE SCENE. DURING THIS PAST WEEK (1986), ADDITIONAL INDIVIDUALS HAVE STEPPED FORTH AND SUGGESTED REHNQUIST MAY HAVE BEEN IN ERROR IN HIS 1971 TESTIMONY. THIS INCIDENT AND REHNQUIST'S SUBSEQUENT COURT DECISIONS HAVE CAUSED CONCERNS, IN SOME QUARTERS, ABOUT REHNQUIST'S VIEWS ABOUT MINORITIES.

However, he did provide a two page copy of a medication record contained in Justice REHNQUIST's Capitol Hill medical file. This medication record documents the dates that prescriptions were filled for Justice REHNQUIST and the type of medication prescribed.

In addition, [redacted] caused a search to be made of Justice REHNQUIST's Capitol Hill medical file and he was unable to determine from this record, the identity of the physician that may have originally introduced Justice REHNQUIST to the medication named Placidyl. [redacted] did provide a four page copy of the results of a physical examination for Justice REHNQUIST completed on April 4, 1972 by [redacted] This report is the first entry into Justice REHNQUIST Capitol Hill medical file and it cited [redacted] plan to prescribe Placidyl for Justice REHNQUIST.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION Part-I April 4, 1972

This is the first annual physical examination on this 47 year old Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. He is currently in good health and has been since June 1971, when he had surgery for a herniated nucleus pulposus at George Washington University Hospital. Since the time of his surgery he has had no real back pain. Occasionally he has numbness over the back of his left leg and the dorsum of his left foot. He has not been allowed full unrestricted activity yet but he has been advised by his doctor that he can play tennis again. Because of his relative inactivity, due to the back surgery, he has not had a regular exercise program, although he does jog some and swims, but he feels he is out of shape.

FAMILY HISTORY

His father is alive at age 78. He had cancer of the bladder 11 years ago. His mother is alive at age 74 and has high blood pressure. [redacted] His wife [redacted] are in good health.

SYSTEMS REVIEW

Eyes: 1 1/2 years since he has had an eye check. He is close to bifocals, he feels, and he is having an eye examination this month by a private physician in [redacted]

ENT: He has wax in his ears periodically and has to have them cleaned out but has no other problems. He has had some Etching of the incisor teeth and some mottling that the dentists do not know the etiology of, but plan to institute some form of cosmetic treatment.

Cardiovascular: No awareness of his heartbeat, palpitations, skipped beats, etc. No chest discomfort, fainting, dizziness, etc.

Lungs: When he lived in Phoenix, particularly in late October, he would have sneezing, runny nose and wheezing, particularly at night. He has taken Pyribenzamine for a number of years because of this apparent allergy, but he has had no difficulty since he has been living in Washington over the last three years.

ENT: Bilateral cerumen obscuring vision of the TM's. Air conduction greater than bone conduction bilaterally. Hearing localized to midline. Nose negative. Mouth - extensive dental repair with gold capping of the molars. The etching of the upper incisor teeth with discoloration is noted. Mouth is otherwise negative.
Neck: Supple. Bilateral carotid pulsations are equal without bruit. No thyroid palpable. He is very sensitive to neck palpation and examination is not optimal.
Lungs: Clear and resonant to percussion and auscultation.
Heart: At the upper limits of normal by palpation, with the PMI being in the 5th interspace, slightly outside the midclavicular line at the nipple level. The apex impulse is not sustained nor large. Cranial nerves appear to be intact, although he does stammer quite a bit.

SUMMARY & PROBLEM LIST

Problem #1. Status post laminectomy for herniated nucleus pulposus, L4-L5.

Problem #2. Allergy, seasonal. Treatment - Pyribenzamine.

Problem #3. (Inactive) Atrophy, right testicle, post-mumps orchitis.

The electrocardiogram today was normal. The vital capacity and forced expiratory volume in 1 second was also normal. On a brief look at the x-rays, the heart size appears to be at the upper limits of normal. On the abdominal films there appears to be some calcification in the area of the spleen. There was some derangement of the lower lumbar vertebra consistent with his postoperative condition and also some HYPAQUE or other radio opaque material was still present.

The Capitol Hill Pharmacy, which Justice REHNQUIST had utilized in the filling of Placidyl presecriptions, only maintains records for three years. Therefore, the review of such current records would be of no benefit to review in order to determine Justice REHNQUIST's use of Placidyl during 1971 - 1981.

WFO will report results of above listed leads as expeditiously as possible.

Synopsis:

[redacted] had treated candidate for chronic back pain and had recommended sleep and rest as a remedy. [redacted] Capitol Hill physician, had informed [redacted] of prescribing Placidyl as a sleeping aid. Candidate was then hospitalized for back problems and reaction to Placidyl, and was referred to [redacted] for treatment. [redacted] believes Placidyl was prescribed originally by an "old family doctor" of candidate's outside the Washington, D.C. area. During [redacted] interview, it was pointed out that on three occasions during candidate's hospitalization when [redacted] was listed as an attending physician, Placidyl had been prescribed. [redacted] did not recall authorizing Placidyl and stated any hospital staff physician could have authorized this. [redacted] recalled he may have prescribed a small amount of Placidyl to candidate on one occasion when candidate was going away on vacation. [redacted] never gave the candidate any kind of warning regarding its use. [redacted] had performed back surgery on candidate around 1970 at GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER.

[redacted] did not initially prescribe Placidyl but continued candidate's prescription in the amount of 500 mg. per night. [redacted] did not discuss specific side effects of Placidyl but warned against abusing the prescribed dosage. The candidate used Capitol Hill pharmacy to fill his Placidyl prescriptions. The pharmacy only maintains records for three years.

[redacted] advised the candidate was on Placidyl prescribed by an unidentified Capitol Hill physician, and she had no knowledge of a previous physician. Placidyl has been prescribed for many years, but only recently have the dangerous side effects become known. b6 b7C

[redacted] had given candidate physical examinations in the years following his hospitalization and had no knowledge of the physician who had originally prescribed Placidyl to the candidate, or the candidate's knowledge of Placidyl's side effects.

[redacted] provided copies of candidate's medical records during the period 1971 - 1982, which involved treatment for candidate's back problem, including surgery at Washington Hospital Center in 1971.

Date of transcription 7/28/86

On July 26, 1986, [redacted] with offices at [redacted] was contacted by Special Agent (SA) [redacted] through [redacted] answering service. [redacted] stated that he recalled being interviewed by SA [redacted] recently with regard to Justice WILLIAM H. REHNQUIST's nomination as Chief Justice of the United States. He said that he would be happy to provide any additional information and volunteered to discuss this matter with SA [redacted] over the telephone. He furnished the following information:

b7C

He reiterated his previous statement that he first met Justice REHNQUIST several years ago in Washington, D. C., when the candidate came to him with a back problem. He treated Justice REHNQUIST several times through the years for this particular problem and last saw him in the GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL four or five years ago. At that time, Justice REHNQUIST had been admitted for back problems and he began having a reaction to the drug Placidyl. [redacted] recalled that he had told the candidate, on a previous visit, that his back problem would be less severe if he made certain that he received adequate sleep and rest. During these discussions with the candidate, and just prior to REHNQUIST's hospitalization in December, 1981, [redacted] received a telephone call from [redacted] a physician on Capitol Hill who treats members of the UNITED STATES SENATE, UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, SUPREME COURT Justices, and other officials. [redacted] told him that he had given Justice REHNQUIST a prescription for a sleeping aid known as Placidyl. [redacted] told [redacted] that he felt that this was inadvisable, since this drug could be dangerous and he preferred that the candidate not take it. Later on when the candidate was hospitalized at GEORGE WASHINGTON HOSPITAL, he began showing symptoms of withdrawal from Placidyl. He was referred to [redacted] and it was determined that the candidate had been told by [redacted] that he should not take the drug and that the candidate had stopped its use abruptly.

by SA [redacted] HWH:mye Date dictated 7/26/86

b7C

[redacted] stated that it was his opinion from discussing this matter with [redacted] that the candidate had been given Placidyl previously, probably several years ago, by an "old family doctor" somewhere other than Washington, D. C.

[redacted] stated that he did not know of anyone else who might have written the candidate a prescription for Placidyl, although it was possible that he, himself, might have given the candidate a small short-term supply at one time or another. He stated that he could not be certain of this, since he had treated the candidate over a period of several years.

[redacted] said that he believed that the candidate's medical records were now available and he noted that these records had been sent out of the office for microfilming at the time of SA [redacted] initial contact with [redacted] in late June, 1986. He stated that he did not know the exact location of the records and if he did, he would be happy to obtain them immediately. He stated that the office personnel that had custody of the records would not be available until approximately 10:00 a.m., Monday morning, July 28, 1986. [redacted] stated that the information in these records was concerned primarily with Justice REHNQUIST's back problems and his treatment of this ailment and that he was virtually certain that no mention of the drug Placidyl was contained anywhere in the records.

[redacted] furnished SA [redacted] his home telephone number and stated that he would be happy to be of assistance or answer any other questions which might arise regarding the candidate's medical history.

On July 27, 1986, after reviewing a transcript of the candidate's medical records obtained from GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL, SA [redacted] contacted [redacted] by telephone. Having noted that these particular hospital records contained no reference to any surgery performed by [redacted] SA [redacted] asked [redacted] where this operation had been performed. [redacted] replied by stating that he performed back surgery for a deteriorated disk on the candidate around 1970 or earlier at the WASHINGTON HOSPITAL CENTER. He stated that the surgery and the candidate's recovery were normal and unremarkable, and in his opinion, the candidate's recovery was highly satisfactory.

It was also pointed out that these hospital records indicated that during the period May 16, 1977, through May 22, 1977, [redacted] was the Attending Physician when the candidate was hospitalized for a recurring back problem and that Placidyl was one of the medications which the candidate had been given. It was also pointed out from July 30, 1980, until August 30, 1980, the candidate was hospitalized once again and that Placidyl was prescribed. [redacted] was the Attending Physician on this occasion also. [redacted] stated that he did not recall authorizing Placidyl for the candidate and stated that any hospital staff physician could have authorized this. He stated that under such circumstances, the use and dispensing of the drug would have been highly scrutinized and controlled. He said that he seemed to recall on one occasion when the candidate was going away on a vacation, that he prescribed a small supply of Placidyl for Justice REHNQUIST. He stated that he never gave the candidate any kind of warning regarding its use.

[redacted] advised that he did not initially prescribe the medication Placidyl for Justice REHNQUIST. He indicated that when he first saw him in his office, Justice REHNQUIST was being treated for a back problem by [redacted] denied any specific knowledge concerning the identity of the physician that initially placed Justice REHNQUIST on Placidyl, but [redacted] assumed that it was [redacted] admitted that he had a limited knowledge of Placidyl when he first saw Justice REHNQUIST and he denied ever prescribing this medication prior to renewing and continuing Justice REHNQUIST's prescription.

[redacted] was asked if he had informed Justice REHNQUIST about the side effects and contraindications of Placidyl. [redacted] advised that he did caution Justice REHNQUIST against taking more than the prescribed amount of Placidyl which was a dosage of 500 milligrams once each evening. [redacted] indicated, "He (Justice REHNQUIST) said he was only taking one per day. I did caution him against taking more than one per day." [redacted] denied that he ever discussed, with Justice REHNQUIST, the specific side effects or contraindications related to the use or abuse of Placidyl. [redacted] reported, "I don't recall going into the side effects, just the dosage and amount."

[redacted] further advised that Justice REHNQUIST utilized the CAPITOL HILL PHARMACY in the Office of the Attending Physician and had his prescriptions for Placidyl filled at that location. According to [redacted] Justice REHNQUIST utilized the CAPITOL HILL PHARMACY for the entire time that he saw [redacted] and these records are maintained at the Office of the Attending Physician.

On July 26, 1986, Special Agent (SA) [redacted] contacted [redacted] through [redacted] telephone answering service. [redacted] stated that she recalled being recently interviewed by SA [redacted] regarding the nomination of Justice WILLIAM H. REHNQUIST as Chief Justice of the United States. She volunteered to furnish the following additional information over the telephone:

During the process of obtaining a medical history statement from the candidate when he was hospitalized at GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL in December, 1981, and January, 1982, she learned from the candidate that he had been prescribed the sleeping aid Placidyl by a Capitol Hill physician whose name she could not recall. She stated that the candidate and his wife both provided information to her for this statement of medical history. She stated that she did not ask the candidate if he had previously taken Placidyl nor did he volunteer any information to that effect. She said that therefore she had no idea as to whether or not the candidate's first prescription for Placidyl was obtained from this Capitol Hill physician.

[redacted] reiterated her previous statement that she considered the candidate to be a very cooperative and compliant patient. She stated that individuals of very high intelligence in other fields quite frequently and understandably do not know a great deal about the practice of medicine. She said that the candidate appeared to be an individual who, in the interest of his own health, would follow his physician's instructions to the letter. She added, however, that she did not consider him to be a likely candidate for drug abuse.

[redacted] stated that she had never prescribed the drug Placidyl, but knew that it had been around for many years. She said that she did not know at what point its dangerous side effects began to become apparent to the medical profession and suggested that old editions

She stated that at some point in recent years, this publication had begun containing a warning regarding the use of Placidyl. [redacted] furnished copies of [redacted] records pertaining to WILLIAM REHNQUIST, date of birth October 1, 1924. A summary of the information contained in these records is as follows:

On May 11, 1971, [redacted] examined WILLIAM H. REHNQUIST for a possible back problem. It was [redacted] opinion that REHNQUIST was probably suffering from a ruptured disc. He prescribed bed rest at home and the following medication: Butazolidina Alka, Emprin Compound 3, and Valium. He also recommended the use of moist heat as a pain reliever.

On May 24, 1971, at the WASHINGTON HOSPITAL CENTER, [redacted] performed surgery on REHNQUIST for a ruptured disc in his back. Prior to the surgery the patient had complained of lower back pain for the preceeding three weeks complicated by numbness of his left foot. Preliminary examination revealed the problem to be a ruptured disc and the patient failed to improve with conservative therapy. The surgery involved the removal of the degenerated disc material and his toleration of the surgery and his recovery were both uneventful.

A radiological report from the GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER dated March 3, 1977, indicated that Justice REHNQUIST was showing some symptoms of degenerative disc disease and spondylolysis at the level of the transitional vertebra. Another radiological report dated March 5, 1977, concerning a chest x-ray indicated evidence of calcified nodes of old granuloma in both hilar regions. In addition, a calcification at the left lung base could represent calcified granuloma in the lung parenchyma or possibly within the spleen. These x-rays were performed while REHNQUIST was hospitalized from February 8, 1977, until March 4, 1977. He entered the hospital as a result of recurring low back pain and while hospitalized he was treated with bed rest and traction along with physical therapy, heat and massage. He continued to improve with this treatment and was discharged to be followed up in the office.

A radiological report dated March 23, 1977, indicated the results of a chest x-ray performed on the patient. The impression of the radiologist at that time was that there was no cardiac enlargement and that cardiac configuration is somewhat suspicious for left ventricular hypertrophy. A minimal pleural thickening of both lung apices and some minimal interstitial disease in the left upper lobe. In general, the appearance had not changed from a previous study on March 3, 1977. It was noted that older chest films were not available for comparison.

A summary prepared by [redacted] on June 25, 1980, indicated that the patient stated that he felt much better than one year ago and had certainly improved since 1977. He complained of some chronic discomfort in the left gluteal region from time to time. It was noted that Justice REHNQUIST plays paddle tennis and walks up to three or four miles and swims regularly. As a result of some recent back pain he has taken Motrin, which appeared to have been helpful. It was noted that he does not wear his back support very often and takes Tylenol 3 occasionally three times per day. In addition, it was noted that he takes Darvon Compound from time to time and some Valium, depending on his discomfort.

b7C

It was [redacted] impression in this report that the patient's most recent problem was due to a disc at the L5-S1 level rather than the old L4-L5 level. [redacted] prescribed Motrin for one month as well as Tylenol 3 and Valium. He gave Justice REHNQUIST some samples of Motrin to take with him as he was planning to be away for two months.

The result of a chest x-ray performed at the GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER on July 30, 1980, did not indicate any active pulmonary disease.

A lombar metrizamide myelogram performed on August 1, 1980, indicated a ventral defect present at L3-4 representative of a degenerative disc with no lateralization. A previous x-ray on July 31, 1980, indicated some evidence of degenerative disc disease and laminectomy. These examinations were performed while Justice REHNQUIST was a patient at the GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER from July 30, 1980, until August 6, 1980. While hospitalized, the patient was placed in traction and was discharged unimproved from the hospital. Upon his discharge he was prescribed Valium, 5 milligrams one half tablet B.I.D.

Included in the records were results of x-rays and electroencephalography examinations. The results of all of these examinations were unremarkable.

Copies of records obtained from [redacted] office are attached. b6 b7C

NEUROSURGICAL CONSULTATION REPORT [redacted]

REHNQUIST, Mr. William H. 11 May 1971

HISTORY: This forty-six year old patient states that two weeks ago he put in about 400 zoysia plugs and had some back pain. He was seen by a doctor at the Justice Department who advised the use of heat and Aspirin and his back seemed to improve. Two days ago, without history of injury, he began to have left leg pain which has become quite acute in the last twenty-four hours. This morning the left foot and leg feel a little numb and weak. He was unable to go to work today. He gives no previous history of back difficulty except for minor aches in his back for which he never felt the need to consult a physician. He has never had any x-rays of his back. His general history is good.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION: The patient walks favoring his back and left leg. He stands with a slight kyphosis. There is marked spasm of the paravertebral muscles with reversal of the normal lumbar curve. There is marked limitation of motion on forward and backward bending. The straight leg raising test is slightly limited on the right and moderately limited on the left. There are no motor, sensory or reflex changes.

IMPRESSION: Probable ruptured disc at either L4-L5 or L5-S1.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1) Bed rest at home; 2) Butazolidin alka, 100 mg., q.i.d., p.c. for four days; 3) Empirin Compound No. 3 for pain and Valium, 2.5 mg., t.i.d.; 4) use of moist heat; 5) x-rays of the lumbar spine. If he does not improve, or if his pain worsens, he should be hospitalized for traction and possibly a myelogram.

INTRALAMINAR EXPLORATION, L4-5, LEFT, WITH REMOVAL OF HERNIATED NUCLEATED PULPOSUS

PROCEDURE AND FINDINGS:

PRELIMINARY NOTE: This 46 year old attorney general presented with a three week history of low back pain and left sided sciatica presented since somewhat strenuous efforts at planting grass. The pain improved only to increase in severity. Numbness of the left foot, especially the great toe, was described as well. On admission there was decreased strength of dorsiflexion on the left; deep tendon reflexes were within normal limits and equal bilaterally. Straight leg raising to 20 degrees on the right yielded left leg pain; straight leg raising was limited to 10 degrees on the left. Because of failure to improve with conservative therapy, lumbar myelography was performed, and a large extradural defect at the L4-5 level on the left was seen.

PROCEDURE: After satisfactory endotracheal anesthesia had been achieved, the patient was transferred to the operating table in the prone position and the back was gently flexed. The entire back was routinely prepared and draped in a sterile manner, utilizing vydrape in the procedure. A 9 cm. midline incision was made over the lower lumbar vertebra and carried to the level of the posterior investing fascia; serially hanging clamps were placed on the wound margins and hemostasis was achieved with the electrocautery as needed. Wietlaner retractors were placed in the wound, and the posterior investing fascia was incised just to the left of the midline and the paravertebral muscles were stripped from their vertebral attachment by a combination of sharp and blunt dissection. A Taylor retractor was then placed in the wound and the lower lumbar lamina and sacrum were identified. When the L4-5 interspace was satisfactorily defined, a hemilaminectomy was begun first with the Leksell rongeur and then with the large angled Schlesinger rongeur. The ligamentum flavum was then excised and the hemilaminectomy was further enlarged with various sized Schlesinger rongeurs. On entering the interspace, a large bulging annulus was evident with a fragment of disc overlying the body of L4. On incision of the annulus, degenerated disc material was promptly extruded, and the interspace was satisfactorily cleared of disc material. No additional fragments of disc material were identified and at the close of the procedure, the nerve root was seen to course quite freely in its canal.

As the hemilaminectomy was begun, a small synovial cyst measuring approximately 7 mm. was identified. This cyst was removed and sent to pathology laboratory for microscopic view. As well, a portion of the lamina of L4 was sent for microscopic view because of an initial suggestion of increased softness of this bone. After satisfactory hemostasis had been assured, the posterior investing fascia was juxtaposed with interrupted sutures of 2-0 silk-E polydek. The overlying skin was then closed in two layers, first with interrupted sutures of 3-0 silk-E polydek and finally with interrupted sutures of 4-0 mersilene. An appropriate dressing was applied and the patient was taken to the recovery room having tolerated the procedure uneventfully.

SUPPLEMENTARY NEUROSURGICAL REPORT

REHNQUIST, Justice William June 25, 1980

This patient states that he is much better than he was one year ago and certainly much improved then he was when we were treating him in 1977. He has chronic discomfort in the left gluteal region from time to time. There is no sciatic radiation. He plays paddle tennis and walks often, up to three or four miles. He swims regularly. He does not always do his exercises regularly. He has had a recent minor exacerbation and took some Motrin. which seems to have helped him. He does not wear his back support very often. He takes Tylenol #3 from 0 to 3 times a day. He takes Darvon Compound from time to time and Valium depending on his discomfort. He feels he is doing fairly well though he would certainly welcome complete relief of symptoms. He says his back does seem to interfere with sexual relations because for some reason this activity intensifies the discomfort.

On examination, there is no tenderness over the well healed scar. There is no tenderness over the buttocks. There is slight straightening of the normal lumbar curve. There is only slight limitation of forward and backward bending. Straight leg raising test is negative. There is no definite motor weakness, though at times I wonder about a little weakness of ventroflexion. Ankle reflex tends to be hypoactive on the right, less active on the left. There are no sensory abnormalities.

It is my impression that his most recent problem is due to a disc at the L5-S1 level rather than the old L4-L5 level. He does not manifest clinical findings that would make me feel we should consider myelography or surgery. I am advising him to continue with the medications as above. I am asking him to take a course of Motrin for one month. I have given him a prescription for Tylenol #3 and Valium as well as some samples of Motrin to take with him as he is planning to be away for two months.

FINAL DIAGNOSIS: Degenerative disc disease.

HPI: This 55-year-old white male right-handed Supreme Court justice has a long history of low back pain. He had a left L4-L5 lumbar laminectomy in 1971 with good symptomatic relief. He later began having episodic left buttock pain and had two episodes of traction at GWUH in 1977 with good symptom relief. He felt himself to be in good condition until 1980 when he began noticing increased left hip pain and decrease in daily activities. There is an important court case pending and may have long, frequent sessions and so he is in for evaluation. The patient states he has left hip tightness which is episodic and it gives frequent backache. He denies any lower extremity pain, but admits to left foot numbness with increased standing, and he has infrequent paresthesia of the left foot with prolonged sitting in one position. He denies bowel or bladder symptoms but states he has noted a left foot clumsiness since the last traction in 1977.

PH: Adult medical problems include sigmoidoscopy in 1976 at which time a colon polyp was found. Since that time he has had frequent checkups with negative results. Hospitalizations include tonsillectomy as a child, L4-L5 left laminectomy in 1971 and traction at GWUH times two in 1977. The patient denies any drug allergies.

ROS: Abdomen - colon polyp found in 1976 for which he has frequent negative checkups. The patient also admits to infrequent anal fissures which bleeding on toilet paper.

PE: General- a well-developed, well-nourished adult white male in no acute distress. HEENT - atraumatic. TM's obscured by cerumen. Hearing was normal. EOM's were intact. PERRLA. FUndi were benign. Visual fields equal by confrontation. Neck was supple and without adenopathy. The lungs were clear to auscultation and resonant to percussion. Symmetrical chest expansion. Heart - regular rhythm. Rate of 76. No murmurs, gallops or rubs. The pulses were 2+/2+ and symmetrical bilaterally. The patient had no carotid, femoral, or renal bruits. The abdomen - active bowel sounds. No hepatosplenomegaly, nontender. Good sphincter tone. Stool guaiac was negative. Prostate was firm and nontender. Musculoskeletal - full cervical, upper and lower extremity ROM. Good heel and toe walk. Good tandem walk. Good handgrip bilaterally. Negative straight leg raise bilaterally. Neurological - mental status was oriented times three and alert. Cranial nerves II through XII were intact. Motor - all groups tested were 5/5 and symmetrical, except for a decreased left EHL which was 4/5. Sensory - intact to touch and vibration and joint position sense. The patient had questionable decreased pin prick on the lateral aspect of the left foot and top of left great toe. DTR's were symmetrical bilaterally, except for an absent left ankle jerk. The sign of Babinski was not present. The patient has no spasm and no clonus. Cerebellar was wnl.

LAB: Admission sodium was 140, K was 4.3, chloride was 103, CO2 28, BUN 19, creatinine was 1.3. Admission SMA 12 was within normal limits. Admission CBC showed white count of 6.8, hgb 14.9, hct 42.7. Differential showed segs of 41, lymphs 45, monocytes 5 and eosinophils 9. Repeat diff showed 43 segs, 56 lymphs and 1 eos. Eos count was 356 per cubic millimeter, normal is 50-500 per cubic millimeter. ESR was 6. Admission UA showed specific gravity of 1.016, pH 7.0, 0-1 white blood cells. Spinal fluid appearance was clear and colorless. There were two white blood

TECHNIQUE: 22 gauge needle placed at L2-3 by Dr. Roach of Neural Radiology and 13 to 14 cc. of 220 mg./ml. Amipaque inserted subarachnoid.

FINDING: A ventral defect is present at L3-4 representative of a degenerative disc with no lateralization. Minor hypertrophy of the lamina and ligaments posteriorly without canal stenosis. There is early incomplete filling of the left L5 nerve root but this fills well on later films and is most likely repated to the prior surgery. The S1 nerve roots fill well bilaterally. The conus appears normal.

IMPRESSION:

1. Post-operative change, left ~~S1~~ L5 nerve root, with delayed filling.
2. Degenerative disc, L3-4.

X-RAYS: The patient had a chest xray on 7-30-80 that showed no active pulmonary disease. The patient had lumbar Metrizamide myelogram on8-1-80 that showed - postoperative change, left S1 nerve root with delayed filling, degenerative filling L3-L4.

EKG - EKG could not be found at dictation time.

HOSP COURSE: The patient was admitted to the GWUH on 7-30-80 with the provisional diagnosis of lumbar radiculopathy. The patient placed in traction. On 8-1-80, the patient had a lumbar myelogram that showed postoperative changes in the left S1 nerve root and degenerative disc at L3-L4. Myelogram was reviewed by [redacted] who did not feel surgery was indicated at that time. The patient continued traction, but felt very little relief from it. The patient was discharged from the hospital on 8-6-80.

[redacted] suggested that one of the reasons these voters did not vote was because they were aware that their illegal status had been discovered by [redacted] and other poll watchers.

[redacted] advised that he dispatched REHNQUIST from Republican County Headquarters, located at 32nd and Oak Street to go to the BETHUNE SCHOOL and clear up the disturbance involving [redacted] advised he also sent [redacted] to replace [redacted] as a poll watcher for the Republican Party. [redacted] emphasized that REHNQUIST was not involved in any direct challenge to any voter at the polls. He added that REHNQUIST's role was merely to serve as a "peace maker" and resolve a dispute between [redacted] and officials of the Democratic Party. [redacted] stated that REHNQUIST returned about an hour and one-half later to Republican County Headquarters but [redacted] could not

[redacted] was contacted by SA's [redacted] who identified themselves as special agents of the FBI and explained the purpose of the interview was to obtain information concerning observations [redacted] had made in Phoenix, Arizona, on November 6, 1962.

[redacted] Therefore, he was in Phoenix on November 6, 1962, and recalls aspects of the election held on that date.

[redacted] stated that the United States Attorney's Office in Phoenix had received complaints by citizens regarding voters being challenged by Republican challengers during the election. Allegations were made in the complaints that indiscriminate challenges--"blanket challenges"--were being conducted. [redacted] stated that challenges of voters were usually and should normally be specific. Usually, challenges were made regarding the voters' residence, identification, and even whether the voter was actually alive.

Thus, in response to complaints, [redacted] and an unknown special agent of the Phoenix office of the FBI went to south Phoenix to a school, possibly Bethune School, to determine the validity of the complaints and/or violations of Federal law.

Upon arrival at the school, [redacted] observed "a tense situation" in that the lines were long and delayed. (The delays and long lines were also complained about to the United States Attorney's Office.)

[redacted] saw WILLIAM REHNQUIST, whom he knew as BILL REHNQUIST, at a table with voting officials. [redacted] explained that he had met REHNQUIST previously and was aware he was a Phoenix attorney who had been a United States Supreme Court Justice's clerk. [redacted] had said Hello to REHNQUIST in the past and had seen him on social occasions. [redacted] explained he was not a friend or social acquaintance of REHNQUIST. He stated on another occasion he recalled introducing [redacted] to REHNQUIST at a random meeting outside of the Phoenix Federal Building. [redacted] also recalled that REHNQUIST was in the practice of law with [redacted] in Phoenix.

[redacted] stated the voters at the south Phoenix location were comprised mostly of black and Hispanic persons. The precinct historically was strongly dominated by the Democratic party.

Upon [redacted] arrival, he observed the delays and "confrontational" type challenges. He opined the challengers were blanket challenging the black and Hispanic voters. He estimated possibly 75% of the voters present in line were being challenged.

After [redacted] and the unknown special agent of the FBI introduced themselves to the voting officials, the situation became less tense and voting was continued at a regular pace with the challengers apparently reducing the confrontational approach.

[redacted] was uncertain, but the special agent may have interviewed some voters. [redacted] is not certain whether interviews were actually conducted.

Regarding WILLIAM REHNQUIST's presence, [redacted] observed REHNQUIST at the precinct scene. He observed REHNQUIST "in the position" to challenge voters. [redacted] explained what he meant by "in the position" was REHNQUIST's presence at the voters' officials' table or very near by; [redacted] was told by a person or persons unknown that REHNQUIST was challenging and, in conversation with [redacted] REHNQUIST stated to [redacted] that REHNQUIST was a challenger.

It is [redacted] opinion that REHNQUIST was not there as peacekeeper or overseer, but it appeared REHNQUIST was of a confrontational attitude to discourage primarily Democratic precinct voters who were mostly black and Hispanic.

[redacted] said that REHNQUIST was definitely "in the position" of a challenger but [redacted] had "no accurate recollection of REHNQUIST actually challenging."

[redacted] left the scene with the FBI special agent after approximately 15 to 20 minutes as the scene was no longer tense and the presence of [redacted] and the special agent appeared to have a calming effect.

[redacted] concluded by stating that it was his opinion that the total purpose of the confrontational challenges was to discourage black and Hispanic voters, who were predominantly Democratic voters, from voting. It was [redacted] recollection that, on the above date, challenges were indiscriminately made and voters were requested to read portions of the constitution. He reiterated that the normal basis for a challenge was a question of the voter's eligibility and validity to vote. This was not the case on November 6, 1962, according to [redacted]

[redacted] stated he has been called as a witness to the confirmation hearing for Justice WILLIAM REHNQUIST's appointment as United State Supreme Court Chief Justice. He stated he was traveling to Washington on July 30, to appear before the confirmation hearing members on July 31.

WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST

The United States Senate Committee on the Judiciary made several written and telephone requests to the Department of Justice (DOJ), during the period extending from Friday, July 25, 1986, through Monday, July 28, 1986. The Committee sought additional information about Justice Rehnquists' involvement in incidents which occurred at a polling place in Phoenix, Arizona, and additional information relating to a possible drug dependencey by the Justice. The DOJ asked the FBI to conduct additional inquiries. A synopsis of this investigation and prior investigations of the polling place incidents is set forth below, along with additional findings regarding the prescription of the drug Placidyl to the Justice. Full texts of interviews conducted in 1962, 1971, and 1986 concerning these matters are included following the synopsis.

[redacted] advising that [redacted] was the authorized Republican Party representative. [redacted] immediately took up his duties. He disclosed that he asked one out of every ten people waiting in the voting line to read from a card he carried containing a small excerpt from the Constitution. If they seemed unable to read he said he would, ". . . working through the inspector, formally challenge them . . ." He said the official records would show twenty people challenged but he thought the actual figure was seventeen. He went on to say that he knew of only one person who was actually refused a ballot by the inspector and two judges on the basis of the literacy challenge. [redacted] a Democratic Official, kept disrupting [redacted] by discussing either [redacted] right to challenge or the manner in which [redacted] was conducting the challenges, as did a number of representatives of the County Attorney, the Sheriff and the United States Attorney. As the day progressed [redacted] actions caused a number of voters in the predominantly minority precinct to depart without voting, due to the delays experienced, the fact that some individuals did not wish to be challenged or because he was causing some to have to prove that they could read. Numerous political party officials and representatives of governmental agencies gathered at the polling place. Among the people at the precinct were [redacted] and others. Many knew Rehnquist at the time. After discussions with representatives on the scene such as [redacted] and Jordan Harris, the gathered political party officials spoke to [redacted] Their remarks were intended to cause [redacted] to modify his methods or stop challenging, and went entirely unheeded. A scuffle broke out between Fred DeLise and [redacted] which was observed by [redacted] witnessed the scuffle and telephoned the police. The police responded and according to [redacted] accompanied him to his automobile. Numerous individuals had witnessed [redacted] challenging voters throughout the day, but few witnessed the scuffle inside the building and many saw [redacted] depart in the company of police officers. Among those witnessing the police remove an individual were [redacted] and [redacted] dispatched Rehnquist to serve as a peacemaker between [redacted] and officials of the Democratic Party. [redacted] upon learning of the departure of his authorized party representative [redacted] dispatched [redacted] to serve as [redacted] replacement. According to [redacted] who knew

Rehnquist at the time, Rehnquist provided instructions to the Republican representatives on the scene upon his arrival. In [redacted] opinion, Rehnquist's instruction were overheard by voters standing in line which caused some voters to depart. Within one and a half hours, Rehnquist had return to Republican Headquarters. [redacted] who were interviewed in 1971 and 1986 have affixed the date of the Bethune incident to have occurred during the 1964 election. Party Official [redacted] and Election Official [redacted] state that there were no incidents in the 1964 election. [redacted] reported that the Phoenix Police Department records do not reflect any incidents at the Bethune School during the 1964 election. DRUG DEPENDENCY

[redacted] gave William Hubbs Rehnquist a physical examination in October, 1970 at a government facility near Purcelville, Virginia. He recalled no details of the examination. Medical records for this examination have been obtained and reflect that Justice Rehnquist had been previously prescribed Placidyl by an unknown doctor. The records are being transmitted to [redacted] to refresh his recollection. [redacted] referred Rehnquist to [redacted] for treatment of back problems. [redacted] stated that he first learned of Rehnquist's use of Placidyl from a U.S. Senate doctor he thought was a [redacted] did not believe this doctor was the first to give Placidyl to Rehnquist but did not know who had. [redacted] stated Rehnquist was taking Placidyl when [redacted] first saw him but he did not know who originally prescribed it. [redacted] treated Rehnquist for withdrawal symptoms caused by discontinuance of Placidyl. She stated she could not understand why anyone would

Subject : WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST

This memorandum memorializes discussions with John Bolton, Mike Carvin and FNU Schwartz with [redacted] which occurred at noon on July 30, 1986, in regard to investigation of Justice Rehnquist.

Mr. Schwartz telephoned SA [redacted] at noon July 30, 1986 and identified himself as an aide to Michael Carvin (Deputy Assistant Attorney General-Civil Rights Division) and assisting in the Rehnquist nomination. Schwartz said he had before him a July 29, 1986 edition of an Arizona newspaper in which an article about Justice Rehnquist appears. In the article an Arizona State Senator, E. Manuel Pena (1) Phoenix, is reported to have said that Justice Rehnquist challenged voters at the Butler precinct in 1964. Schwartz said Mr. Carvin would like the FBI to interview [redacted] responded that between now and August 14, 1986 the date the Senate Judiciary Committee is expected to vote on Rehnquist nomination newspapers-particularly Arizona newspapers will be reporting information from large numbers of people, FBI resources and sound judgment dictate that the FBI need not be asked to interview everyone. Schwartz then added Mr. Carvin wants this fellow interviewed because the Democrats are going to call him as a witness. [redacted] asked, "do you have a listing of the Democrat's witnesses?" Schwartz said he does not have a list but has heard the names of many people they intend to call and the FBI has interviewed most all of them. [redacted] responded that he must be sensitive to the possibility that Democrats could charge the Republican's of misusing the FBI and intimidating the Democrats witnesses if the basis of interview rests primary with a curiosity about what witnesses are going to say.

Carvin then took the telephone from Schwartz and the whole conversation was repeated. [redacted] then reminded Carvin that the FBI has substantially completed its investigation relating to challenges of voters or literacy abilities during the early 60's in Arizona. Carvin acknowledge that he received the report yesterday and found to have resolved the issues. Carvin then said that the request to interview [redacted] had been included in a handwritten listing of names which he provided to [redacted] on Saturday July 26, 1986. The inclusion of [redacted] on the list was acknowledged and Carvin was reminded that he had been asked to determine the revelancy of each person listed and their relationship to the issues being addressed, and that he had done so for other names but not [redacted] Carvin said that he would like to have [redacted] interviewed but he wanted John Bolton to participate in this discussion.

Bolton took the telephone and asked what was being discussed. The conversations with Schwartz and Carvin were repeated by [redacted] Bolton then said the FBI may go ahead and conduct the interview that Carvin has requested and he Bolton would accept responsibility should concerns be raised about the role of the FBI. He expressed no opinion about the need to conduct additional interviews or the use of FBI resources. [redacted] after Bolton finished speaking advised he would "run the request for the [redacted] interview up the flag pole for the consideration of others." Bolton said he'd like a response and could be reached in the Vice Presidents Office in the Dirksen Building.

[redacted] was then made aware of these discussions and suggested that John Schreiber should be consulted. Due to the time constraints imposed by the fact that hearings were underway, he chose not to wait the return of [redacted] who was out of his office on business.

John Schreiber was advised of this matter. He sought counsel of [redacted] and [redacted] advised that because the [redacted] allegation involved another precinct the FBI could conduct the interview, however due to the likelihood of additional requests for information authorization to decline some request for investigation was being sought.

Schreiber advised Nolan through [redacted] that the basis of each request should be requested and any thought to be inappropriate discussed internally before agreeing to proceed.

[redacted] advised that any restrictive covenants which are a part of real estate deeds filed within the State of Vermont and are determined to contain language that prohibits the sale of land because of a person's race, religious creed, color, or national origin cannot be enforced. [redacted] further noted that Title 13 of Vermont Statutes Annotated (VSA), Section 1452, paragraph (A), prohibits any attempts by a seller of property to enforce such restrictive covenants. Section 1453 of Title 13, VSA establishes a penalty upon conviction for violation of Section 1452, wherein a person shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned more than 30 days, or both. [redacted] noted that successful prosecution of an individual for such activity would require that the State of Vermont display the seller knew that such a covenant was part of a land deed at the time of sale, and further, attempted to enforce the covenant. Liability for such activity would attach to the seller of the questioned property.

[redacted] was then furnished with one photocopy each of two forms entitled "Customer Consent and Authorization for Access to Financial Records", which contained the signatures of NATALIE C. [redacted] thereafter made available the original mortgage loan file, relating to mortgage number 33801479 concerning the mortgage made to WILLIAM H. and NATALIE C. REHNQUIST by the Merchants National Bank of St. Johnsbury, St. Johnsbury, Vermont. It is noted that the Merchants National Bank of St. Johnsbury was purchased by the First National Bank of Springfield on June 30, 1976. On April 30, 1980 the First National Bank of Springfield changed the name of the institution to the First National Bank of Vermont.

[redacted] advised that there is presently no one employed within the First National Bank of Vermont who would have been directly involved in the closing for the mortgage previously issued by the Merchants National Bank of St. Johnsbury to NATALIE C. and WILLIAM H. REHNQUIST. ALBERT GILMORE previously served as the President for the Merchants National Bank of St. Johnsbury, however, GILMORE had no further connection with the bank following the sale of the bank to the First National Bank of Springfield on June 30, 1976. [redacted] further related that GILMORE passed away approximately four or five years prior to the date of this interview.

[redacted] thereafter made available one photocopy each of the following items which were contained within the original mortgage loan file number 33801479:

[redacted] eventually met Justice REHNQUIST at his office, which at the time was located at [redacted] is uncertain as to what stage the proceeding had progressed to at the time of this meeting. [redacted] is unable to recall any discussion wherein Justice REHNQUIST was specifically cautioned relative to any restrictive covenants which might have been present in the deed of the property as purchased by Justice REHNQUIST. [redacted] would not have considered a restrictive covenant relating to an individual's religion as a title defect based upon the fact that such restrictive covenants cannot be enforced under Vermont law. [redacted] does not feel that the placement of such a covenant within the deed constituted an issue of pertinence relative to the profession of Justice REHNQUIST since the restrictive covenant was placed into the deed approximately forty years prior to the date of sale of the property to Justice REHNQUIST, and the covenant was not placed within the deed by the immediate seller of the property.

[redacted] is uncertain as to whether any legal recourse was available which would have permitted the removal of a restrictive covenant dealing with a persons religious background. Vermont Summer Estates, Inc., a previous owner of the property, would have been named in any legal action to quiet the title to the property. [redacted] acknowledged he also could have sought a declaratory judgement from a state court to remove such restrictive covenants.

[redacted] cannot recall any discussions with Justice REHNQUIST relating to his possible legal recourse to quiet the restrictive covenant which prohibited the sale or lease of the property to "any member of the Hebrew race." [redacted] is further unable to recall any specific question by the seller of the property relative to Justice REHNQUIST'S religious background.

Relating to paragraph seven of his title opinion, [redacted] advised that his reference to beach rights would have been included because of his knowledge that such matters were important to the effective utilization of lake front property. In paragraph five of his title opinion [redacted] pointed out limitations in a Right of Way because of the narrow nature of the land. [redacted] noted that in all probability he would have discussed his title opinion with Justice REHNQUIST on either the telephone or in person. [redacted] cannot recall this discussion as having included any specific problems or difficulties relating to the deed.

[redacted] recalled that [redacted] who was involved in the closing of the mortgage loan secured by Justice REHNQUIST, however, [redacted] cannot recall the specific location where the closing occurred. [redacted] is further unable to recall if Justice REHNQUIST was present in person for the closing. [redacted] can recall having met with Justice REHNQUIST in person on only one or two occasions.

[redacted] advised that the original file of his law firm relating to the work previously performed on behalf of Justice REHNQUIST is no longer available since it was completely destroyed in a fire at their office building on June 18, 1984. Investigation determined the fire was an arson committed by [redacted] noted the closed files of the law firm were kept in cardboard boxes adjacent to the elevator where the majority of the intense fire occurred. [redacted] law firm performed no other legal work on behalf of Justice REHNQUIST. The last communication which [redacted] recalls as having occurred between the law firm and Justice REHNQUIST involved a letter where Justice REHNQUIST was invited to speak before a meeting of the Vermont Bar Association, an invitation which was declined.

[redacted] explained that his experience in title searches and deed preparation indicates that the other deeds issued for properties subdivided within the tract of land developed by Vermont Summer Estates, Inc., would also have included restrictive covenants relating to members of the Hebrew race which are similiar to those found in the deed for property owned by Justice REHNQUIST. According to [redacted] review of the title abstract previously prepared, the restrictive covenant was placed therein by Vermont Summer Estates, Inc. [redacted] further noted that a restrictive covenant relating to members of the Hebrew race is unusual in the northern Vermont area, however, restrictive covenants dealing with the sale of alcohol upon properties is more common.

[redacted] continued by advising that the original deed relating to the sale of the land would have been made available to Justice REHNQUIST. A copy of this deed was filed with the Town Clerk in Greensboro, Vermont, while the bank received a copy of the original deed.

[redacted] received no direct request from Justice REHNQUIST that he, [redacted] assist in locating any particular land which included restrictive covenants relating to an individuals religious background. [redacted] is further unable to recall a specific instance wherein he, [redacted] personally discussed the restrictive covenants with Justice REHNQUIST. [redacted] is also unable to recall any specific situation wherein he observed Justice REHNQUIST actually read the deed to his property.

Dear [redacted]

Enclosed please find photocopy of my original Title Opinion relative to the Rehnquist property in Greensboro and the original Mortgage returned to me from the Greensboro Town Clerk's Office after recording.

Your Mortgage was filed for record on August 6, 1974 at 2:30 p.m. and is currently recorded in Book 2C, Page 132 of the Greensboro Land Records.

On August 29, 1974 at 11:00 a.m., I examined the title to the property currently owned by William H. and Natalie C. Rehnquist and mortgaged to the Merchants National Bank of St. Johnsbury and find the following changes from my June 24th opinion attached hereto.

(a) The sellers' portion of the 1974 property taxes set forth in paragraph numbered 8 have been paid.

(b) The Mortgage referred to in Paragraph 9 has been discharged on the Greensboro records.

(c) The matter set forth in Paragraph numbered 4 of my title opinion will at some future time be cleared up through the efforts of the sellers' attorney, [redacted] withheld $1,000.00 from the equity due to his clients to pay for the clearing up of the matter relative to the Vermont Summer Estate mortgage.

b6

(d) Therefore, on August 29, 1974 at 11:00 a.m. it is the opinion of the undersigned that the Merchants National Bank of St. Johnsbury has a valid first priority lien on the property of William H. and Natalie C. Rehnquist situated in Greensboro by virtue of the recordation of its Mortgage on August 6, 1974 subject only to the items set forth in my June 24th title opinion which have not been indicated as corrected herein.

Very truly yours,

Re: [redacted] Property, Greensboro

Dear Justice Rehnquist:

Pursuant to your request I have examined the Land Records of Greensboro relative to the property you are proposing to purchase from [redacted] in Greensboro, Vermont. The [redacted] acquired the property in question from [redacted] by Warranty Deed dated May 4, 1966 and recorded in Book Y, Page 423 of the Greensboro Land Records a copy of which is attached hereto and labeled Abstract Copy #1. My search extended back to two conveyances of larger parcels of land including the [redacted] property and the current Highland Lodge property and adjacent lots. The conveyances are as follows:

(A) [redacted] by Warranty Deed dated January 18, 1889 recorded in Book I, Page 55 on January 18, 1889. See attached Abstract Copy #2.

(B) [redacted] by Warranty Deed dated July 1, 1920 and recorded in Book N, Page 237 on July 1, 1920. See attached Abstract Copy #3.

I concluded my search in Greensboro Town Clerk's Office on June 21, 1974 at 2:30 p.m. In the course of my search I found the following:

1. [redacted] encumbered the property described in sub-paragraph A above to [redacted] by Mortgage Deed dated January 7, 1893 and recorded in Book I, Page 447 of the Greensboro Land Records. This mortgage was in the original amount of $350.00. The mortgage in question was assigned by the said [redacted] to [redacted] by assignment dated April 23, 1894 and recorded in Book J, Page 392 of the Greensboro Land Records. Subsequent thereto a discharge is recorded on the margin of the mortgage in question signed by the Hardwick Savings Bank. It is assumed that somehow the Hardwick Savings Bank acquired title to the mortgage by assignment from [redacted] or successor in title to her. This assignment, however, has never been recorded. However, in view of the ancient age and small amount of the mortgage it is the opinion of the undersigned that the same can most probably be safely disregarded even though the break in the chain of assignment between [redacted] and Hardwick Savings Bank does in fact create a defect.

2. Over the years previous owners have sold many parcels of land off from the two parcels set forth in sub-paragraph A and B above. Some of these parcels were sold with benefit of survey, some without. A great many of them are the small lakeshore lots situated between the main highway and the lake. There were also a number of lots sold to the rear of the Highland Lodge property. There are at least two different surveys referred to in the various deeds one of which the undersigned had access to as it is recorded in the Town Clerk's Office. Because of the great many conveyances over the years with descriptions of varying degrees of accuracy the undersigned is not able to make any representation as to the boundaries of the property in question. It should be noted that the description in the deed conveying a main cottage lot would appear to be taken from a survey, however, the undersigned has been unable to located the survey. The description in the deed conveying the small lot which [redacted] bought from Highland Lodge is made from a survey of which I have and which I have forwarded you a copy of.

3. Previous owners of the Highland Lodge property have conveyed transmission line rights-of-way to the village of Hardwick. The description in the conveyances is sufficiently vague so that the undersigned is unable to determine whether they will effect [redacted] property, however, an examination of the premises should indicate the presence or absence of electrical transmission lines. The transmission line conveyances are as follows:

(A) Vermont Summer Estates, Inc. to the village of Hardwick by deed dated June 6, 1931 recorded in Book P, Page 669.

(B) [redacted] to the village of Hardwick by Instrument dated August 18, 1923 and recorded in Book P, Page 63 of the Greensboro Land Records.

b7C

4. Vermont Summer Estates, Inc. which owned the entire Highland Lodge property at the time including the two parcels which the [redacted] own gave a mortgage to [redacted] by Instrument dated March 23, 1933 and recorded in Book O, Pages 52-53 of the Greensboro Land Records. The mortgage in question being $17,500.00 in amount. This mortgage was attempted to be discharged by the signing on the margin of [redacted] The discharge does not follow the statutory form and is unwitnessed. Further as you can see, only three out of the five mortgagees signed the discharge. This incomplete discharge technically creates a defect in the record, however, in view of the passage of time it is the opinion of the undersigned that this defective discharge can most probably be safely disregarded.

5. I would recommend that you examine closely the attached Abstract Copy of the deed of the main cottage property. The deed in question being Vermont Summer Estates, Inc. to [redacted] dated September 21, 1933 and recorded in Book P, Pages 727-729 of the Greensboro Land Records, a copy of which is attached hereto and labeled Abstract Copy #4. I would direct your attention particularly to the width of the right-of-way which would appear to be 20 feet and the conditions set forth in the deed.

6. The deed from Highland Lodge, Inc. to [redacted] conveying the adjacent lots which said deed is dated July 31, 1961 and recorded in Book V, Page 510 of the Greensboro Land Records, a copy of which is attached hereto and labeled Abstract Copy #5 contains the following language:

> "As a further consideration for the giving of this deed, the grantee agrees that no residence or summer places shall be built on the land herein conveyed by the grantee, her heirs or assigns."

I would further point out that the Highland Lodge, Inc. to [redacted] deed contains an error in that the first course which is stated to be N 47° 15" W should actually be S 47° 15" E. The survey from which the deed description was made states the course correctly but the individual making the deed neglected to reverse the directions when he ran in the opposite direction from the direction shown on the survey. In the opinion of the undersigned this error in the deed is a defect of little consequence in view of the fact a correct survey is in existance and referred to therein. b6 b7C

7. The only rights to the use of the beach appear in the deed from Vermont Summer Estates, Inc. to [redacted] a copy of this deed is attached hereto and I would direct your attention thereto. It would appear from reading that deed that there is no right to use or construct a boathouse on the Highland Lodge property on the lakefront. I discussed this matter with [redacted] and he indicted that [redacted] had at one point kept his boats at the Highland Boathouse, however, this proved to be an unsatisfactory arrangement from both points of view and therefore [redacted] rented other space on the lake to dock his boat. [redacted] also indicated that he has entered into a yearly agreement with other landowners in the area for a rental of the Highland Lodge facilities. This allows the individuals to make full use of the Highland Lodge boats and beach chairs, etc. This is something which is voluntary on the part of Highland Lodge, Inc. and is done only on a yearly basis. There is nothing in the Land Records relative to this rental of Highland Lodge facilities.

8. The property in question is subject to a lien for the 1974 property taxes assessed as of April 1 and not yet due and payable.

9. The property in question is subject to the lien of a mortgage given to Harkwick Trust Company by [redacted] [redacted] dated August 14, 1970 and recorded in Book W, Page 333 in the Greensboro Land Records. b6 b7C

Based upon my search for the period herein indicated, and assuming the correctness of the indices of the Greensboro Land Records, it is my opinion that on June 21, 1974 at 2:30 p.m., [redacted] possessed good and marketable title of record to the land and premises in question, free and clear of all encumbrances, except as set forth above.

Cordially yours,

[redacted]

AS PORTLAND WAS ADVISED IN THE REFERENCED TELCAL, AN IMPORTANT ISSUE HAS ARISEN IN THE CONFIRMATION HEARINGS OF JUSTICE REHNQUIST CONCERNING HIS ACTIVITIES IN 1962 IN PHOENIX, ARIZONA, AS A MEMBER OF THE LOCAL REPUBLICAN PARTY. ACCORDING TO TESTIMONY AT THE HEARINGS, MEMBERS OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY INSTITUTED A PROGRAM DURING THE ELECTIONS OF NOVEMBER, 1962, WHEREIN THEY USED THE THEN-VALID LITERACY

REQUIREMENTS OF ARIZONA LAW TO "CHALLENGE" DEMOCRATIC VOTERS. SUCH CHALLENGING WAS LEGAL IF PROPERLY DONE, BUT UNLAWFUL IF IMPROPER HARASSMENT OR INTIMIDATION TOOK PLACE. THE PHOENIX DIVISION CONDUCTED AN ELECTION LAWS INVESTIGATION (PX56-52) CONCERNING THE ACTIVITIES OF SOME OF THESE REPUBLICAN PARTY MEMBERS. THE PHOENIX FILE HAS BEEN DESTROYED BUT SOME FBIHQ RECORDS CONCERNING THE INVESTIGATION STILL EXIST.

ON AUGUST 1, 1986, [redacted] b6 b7C [redacted] AS WELL AS OTHER WITNESSES, TESTIFIED THAT MR. REHNQUIST ACTIVELY "CHALLENGED" DEMOCRATIC VOTERS IN NOVEMBER, 1962, AT A POLLING PLACE, OR AT POLLING PLACES, IN SOUTH PHOENIX. THIS TESTIMONY IS CRITICAL INASMUCH AS JUSTICE REHNQUIST HAS TESTIFIED THAT HE HAS NO RECOLLECTION OF CHALLENGING VOTERS.

[redacted] TESTIMONY IS PARTICULARLY IMPORTANT BECAUSE HE STATED THAT HE ACCOMPANIED AN FBI AGENT, WHOSE NAME HE CANNOT RECALL, TO A POLLING PLACE IN SOUTH PHOENIX (EXACT LOCATION NOT RECALLED) WHERE THEY ENCOUNTERED MR. REHNQUIST, WHO WAS ACTING AS A CHALLENGER. [redacted] STATED THAT THE AGENT INTERVIEWED MR. REHNQUIST ON THIS OCCASION. EFFORTS ARE BEING MADE TO IDENTIFY, LOCATE AND INTERVIEW THIS AGENT (IF

THERE ACTUALLY WAS SUCH AN AGENT AS [redacted] RECALLS}. AS STATED, THE PHOENIX FILE {PX56-52} IS DESTROYED AND THE FBIHQ DOCUMENTS DO NOT INDICATE SUCH AN AGENT.

b7C

[redacted] TESTIMONY RAISES SEVERAL ISSUES. FIRST, WAS THE POLLING PLACE HE VISITED THE BETHUNE SCHOOL IN SOUTH PHOENIX? THIS IS IMPORTANT BECAUSE A CONFRONTATION OCCURRED AT THE BETHUNE SCHOOL WHICH WAS INVESTIGATED AS PART OF PX56-52, AND DETAILS CONCERNING THE CONFRONTATION APPEAR IN EXTANT FBI DOCUMENTS AND IN A PHOENIX POLICE DEPARTMENT INCIDENT REPORT. THE POLICE INCIDENT REPORT AND THE FBI DOCUMENTS DO NOT MENTION MR. REHNQUIST. IT IS NOTED FURTHER THAT PREVIOUS NEWSPAPER ACCOUNTS STATE THAT [redacted] HAS RESPONDED IN MEDIA INTERVIEWS THAT THE POLLING PLACE AT WHICH HE ENCOUNTERED MR. REHNQUIST WAS AT THE BETHUNE SCHOOL.

THE SECOND ISSUE RAISED BY [redacted] TESTIMONY CONCERNS WHO IT WAS THAT ACCOMPANIED HIM TO THE POLLING PLACE AT WHICH HE ENCOUNTERED MR. REHNQUIST? IT WAS POSSIBLE THAT THE PERSON WHO ACCOMPANIED [redacted] WAS A [redacted] THIS POSSIBILITY IS BASED ON A 1962 LETTER OF [redacted] SUBJECT OF PX56-52, IN WHICH HE STATED THAT [redacted]

ACCOMPANIED BY [redacted] CAME TO THE BETHUNE SCHOOL ON THE DAY OF THE INCIDENT.

b7C

THE INCIDENT AT THE BETHUNE SCHOOL OCCURRED ON NOVEMBER 6, 1962, AND INVOLVED [redacted] A LOCAL REPUBLICAN. ACCORDING TO THE ABOVE-MENTIONED POLICE INCIDENT REPORT, [redacted] WHO WAS ACTING AS A CHALLENGER AT THE BETHUNE SCHOOL, BECAME INVOLVED IN AN ALTERCATION WITH DEMOCRATIC OFFICIALS NAMED [redacted]

INVESTIGATION IN PHOENIX ON AUGUST 1, 1986, DETERMINED THAT [redacted] TELEPHONE NUMBER [redacted] HOME TELEPHONE NUMBER IS [redacted]

[redacted] MUST BE INTERVIEWED TO ADDRESS THE FOLLOWING ISSUES AND ANY OTHERS PORTLAND DETERMINES TO BE RELEVANT:

1) WAS [redacted] INVOLVED IN ELECTION LAWS INVESTIGATION/PROSECUTION IN PHOENIX IN NOVEMBER, 1962? DETAILS?

2) DID HE KNOW MR. REHNQUIST IN 1962? GENERALLY, WHAT WAS MR. REHNQUIST'S FUNCTION WITH THE REPUBLICAN PARTY, AND, MORE SPECIFICALLY, WHAT ROLE IF ANY DID MR. REHNQUIST FILL IN

REHNQUIST TO BE PRESENT WHILE OTHER REPUBLICANS CHALLENGED VOTERS? IF SO, DETAILS. PROVIDE SPECIFIC DETAILS OF WHAT [redacted] UNDERSTANDS "CHALLENGING" TO HAVE BEEN (I.E., A DEFINITION).

4) DID [redacted] EVER ACCOMPANY [redacted] TO THE BETHUNE SCHOOL TO INVESTIGATE REPUBLICAN VOTING CHALLENGERS? WHAT OCCURRED? DID HE ENCOUNTER MR. REHNQUIST? WHAT WAS MR. REHNQUIST'S ROLE? WAS HE ACTING AS A CHALLENGER? DID HE [redacted] ENCOUNTER MESSRS. [redacted] DELISE OR [redacted] WAS HE PRESENT ON THE DAY OF THE ABOVE-DESCRIBED ALTERCATION? WAS MR. WILLIAM HUBBS REHNQUIST; DAPLI - CHIEF JUSTICE, UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

RE BUTELCALLS 8/2/86 TO RECEIVING OFFICES, IT IS IMPERATIVE THE INVESTIGATION REQUESTED BELOW BE COMPLETED BY COB AUGUST 3, 1986. IF NOT POSSIBLE, COMPLETE BY EARLIEST POSSIBLE DATE.

AN IMPORTANT ISSUE HAS ARISEN IN THE CONFIRMATION HEARINGS OF JUSTICE REHNQUIST. ACCORDING TO SOME TESTIMONY RECEIVED IN THE HEARINGS, THE LOCAL REPUBLICAN PARTY IN PHOENIX ORGANIZED A CAMPAIGN DURING THE ELECTIONS OF NOVEMBER 1962 TO USE THE THEN-VALID LITERACY REQUIREMENTS FOR VOTING CONTAINED IN ARIZONA LAW AS A MEANS OF DISCOURAGING DEMOCRATIC VOTERS FROM EXERCISING THEIR RIGHTS TO VOTE.

ACCORDING TO TESTIMONY OF [redacted] HE [redacted] ACCOMPANIED AN FBI AGENT WHOSE IDENTITY HE CANNOT RECALL TO A POLLING PLACE IN SOUTH PHOENIX WHERE HE ENCOUNTERED MR. REHNQUIST, WHO WAS THEN ACTIVE IN THE LOCAL REPUBLICAN PARTY. ACCORDING TO [redacted] HE HAD

b7C

RECEIVED COMPLAINTS OF ELECTION LAWS VIOLATIONS EARLIER THAT DAY WHICH CAUSED HIM AND THE FBI AGENT TO GO TO THE VOTING PLACE TO INVESTIGATE. HE TESTIFIED FURTHER THAT MR. REHNQUIST WAS A "CHALLENGER" TO VOTERS AT THE POLLING PLACE.

IT IS POSSIBLE THAT THIS POLLING PLACE WAS AT THE BETHUNE SCHOOL IN SOUTH PHOENIX, ALTHOUGH [redacted] TESTIFIED THAT HE CANNOT RECALL THE EXACT LOCATION OF THE POLLING PLACE. (IT IS NOTED THAT AN INCIDENT INVOLVING A FIST FIGHT DID OCCUR ON NOVEMBER 6, 1962, AT THE BETHUNE SCHOOL AND THIS INCIDENT WAS INVESTIGATED AS PART OF PX 56-52. THE FIGHT INVOLVED REPUBLICAN [redacted] AND [redacted]

b7C

THE TESTIMONY OF [redacted] IS IMPORTANT BECAUSE: JUSTICE REHNQUIST HAS DENIED "CHALLENGING" VOTERS.

THE PHOENIX FILE FOR PX 56-52 HAS BEEN DESTROYED. FBIHQ HAS LOCATED A FILE, INCLUDING A REPORT OF SA [redacted] DATED NOVEMBER 8, 1962. THE [redacted] REPORT, AND PX 56-52, CARRIED A [redacted] AS THE SUBJECT AND CONCERNED THE INCIDENT AT BETHUNE SCHOOL.

THE SENATE HAS REQUESTED, AND THE DEPARTMENT HAS CONCURRED, THAT ALL, REPEAT ALL, PHOENIX AGENTS ON DUTY NOVEMBER 6, 1962, BE INTERVIEWED.

ALL INTERVIEWEES SHOULD BE REQUESTED TO IDENTIFY OTHER PERSON(S) WHO MAY BE ABLE TO SHED LIGHT ON THESE ISSUES. ADVISE FBIHQ OF SUCH PERSONS, AND INTERVIEW OR SET LEADS FOR INTERVIEWS VIA TELCALLS AND IMMEDIATE TELETYPES. HOWEVER, DO NOT SET LEADS IF ALREADY SET BELOW.

INTERVIEWS MAY BE DONE INITIALLY BY TELEPHONE TO DETERMINE EXTENT OF KNOWLEDGE. PERSONS WITH KNOWLEDGE MUST BE INTERVIEWED IN PERSON AND IN-DEPTH.

ALL MEDIA INQUIRIES ARE TO BE REFERRED TO THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

ALL INTERVIEWS ARE TO BE PLACED ON FD-302S. ALL EFFORTS TO LOCATE PERSONS (TELEPHONE CONTACTS, ETC.) ARE TO BE RECORDED CAREFULLY ON INSERTS TO DEMONSTRATE THE FBI'S EFFORTS IN THIS REGARD. FD-302S AND INSERTS ARE TO BE TRANSCRIBED IMMEDIATELY AND SENT VIA FACSIMILE TO FBIHQ, ATTENTION UNIT CHIEF [redacted] [redacted] ROOM 5136, TELELIFT 233. AT CONCLUSION OF REQUESTED INVESTIGATION, IMMEDIATELY PREPARE FULL REPORT AND SEND TO SSA [redacted] VIA EXPRESS MAIL.

b7C

IF IT IS NECESSARY TO SET LEADS FOR OTHER OFFICES, DO SO

VIA TELEPHONE CONTACT FOLLOWED BY IMMEDIATE TELETYPES. ADVISE FBIHQ OF ALL SUCH LEADS AND DESIGNATE COPIES OF TELETYPES FOR FBIHQ.

APPEARING BELOW IS A LIST OF AGENTS WHO WORKED IN PHOENIX IN 1962. THIS LIST MAY HELP THE FORMER AGENTS RECALL EVENTS IN 1962.

THE FOLLOWING ISSUES, AND ANY OTHERS THE RECEIVING OFFICES DETERMINE TO BE RELEVANT, SHOULD BE ADDRESSED IN THE INTERVIEWS REQUESTED BELOW:

{1} WHAT IS AGENT'S GENERAL KNOWLEDGE OF THE PHOENIX DIVISION ELECTION LAWS INVESTIGATION{S} IN 1962? DOES AGENT KNOW OF ANY AGENTS INVOLVED IN THE INVESTIGATION?

{2} IS AGENT FAMILIAR WITH REPUBLICAN PROGRAM DESCRIBED ABOVE OF CHALLENGING DEMOCRATIC VOTERS THROUGH USE OF ARIZONA LITERACY REQUIREMENT? DETAILS? HAVE AGENT DEFINE HIS UNDERSTANDING OF WHAT A "CHALLENGE" WAS, AND WHAT WOULD HAVE MADE A CHALLENGE ILLEGAL {E.G., INTIMIDATION}.

{3} WAS AGENT FAMILIAR WITH MR. REHNQUIST IN 1962? WHAT WAS MR. REHNQUIST'S ROLE WITH THE REPUBLICAN PARTY? WHAT ROLE DID HE HAVE IN THE ELECTION CHALLENGING PROGRAM? DID THE AGENT

EVER WITNESS MR. REHNQUIST PERSONALLY CHALLENGE A VOTER? IF SO, OBTAIN VERY SPECIFIC DETAILS. DID THE AGENT EVER SEE MR. REHNQUIST PRESENT WHILE OTHER REPUBLICANS CHALLENGED VOTERS? IF SO, OBTAIN DETAILS.

(4) DID THE AGENT GO TO THE BETHUNE SCHOOL ON NOVEMBER 6, 1962? IF SO, DID HE ENCOUNTER MESSRS. REHNQUIST, [redacted] [redacted] DELISE OR [redacted] IF SO, PROVIDE DETAILS AS TO CONDUCT OF EACH. WHAT WAS MR. REHNQUIST'S ROLE AT THE SCHOOL? WAS HE AT ALL INVOLVED IN ALTERCATION? AS HE ACTING AS A CHALLENGER? DID THE AGENT INTERVIEW MR. REHNQUIST?

(5) DID THE AGENT EVER ACCOMPANY [redacted] TO ANY POLLING PLACE OTHER THAN THE BETHUNE SCHOOL? IF SO, PROVIDE SPECIFIC DETAILS. WAS MR. REHNQUIST PRESENT? IF SO, WHAT WAS HIS ROLE? WAS HE CHALLENGING VOTERS?

telephone [redacted] was interviewed via telephone by [redacted] who identified himself as a Special Agent (SA) of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). [redacted] was interviewed regarding his knowledge of improprieties in WILLIAM REHNQUIST's conduct at the polling places in Phoenix, Arizona, in 1962, and provided the following information:

[redacted] indicated at the onset of the interview that he had never been assigned to FBI Headquarters City and had spent all his time in the Phoenix Division at Tucson Resident Agency (RA). [redacted] had no knowledge regarding Phoenix Division's Election Law Investigations in 1962, as he was not involved in that type of investigation. Although he had heard of challenging Democratic voters through use of Arizona literacy requirement, he could provide no details as to how that was handled or what a challenge consisted of.

[redacted] was not familiar with Mr. REHNQUIST in 1962, other than having heard his name. He stated that in 1962 he would not even have been aware what party Mr. REHNQUIST was attached to. Therefore, he never witnessed Mr. REHNQUIST challenge a voter nor did he see Mr. REHNQUIST present when voters were challenged by other Republicans.

Since [redacted] was assigned to the Tucson RA, he did not go to the Bethune School on November 6, 1962, nor did he accompany any [redacted] to Bethune School or any other polling places.

[redacted] could provide no addresses for any of the agents who were assigned to the Phoenix Division in 1962, other than indicating that most of them who were assigned to Phoenix at that time have remained in Phoenix.
